ANNUAL REPORT
FEBRUARY, 1992

Pursuant to Mn Stat 84.95

Introduction

This document is made available electronically by the Minnesota Legislative Reference Library as part of an ongoing digital archiving project. <http://www.leg.state.mn.us/lrl/lrl.asp>
(Funding for document digitization was provided, in part, by a grant from the Minnesota Historical & Cultural Heritage Program.)

RIM in a nut shell

Reinvest in Minnesota is a state conservation program that protects and restore's the health of the state's natural resources.

RIM is administered by two state agencies. The Department of Natural Resources (DNR) carries out RIM programs on public and private lands. The Wildlife Enhancement, Fisheries Enhancement, Critical Habitat Match, Prairie Bank, and Forest Wildlife Management public land programs provide funding for projects to improve existing state land or to acquire new outdoor recreation areas. For example, projects in the Fish Enhancement program improve fish populations and water quality on public lakes and streams, and the Critical Habitat Match program matches private donations to acquire and improve important wildlife and fish habitat.

The Board of Water and Soil Resources (BWSR), through local Soil and Water Conservation Districts (SWCD), carries out a private land program called RIM Reserve. RIM Reserve pays landowners to retire their fragile and environmentally sensitive lands from agricultural production to improve water quality, reduce erosion and sedimentation, and enhance wildlife habitat.

Each year, the Board of Water and Soil Resources and the Department of Natural Resources prepare an annual report on the Reinvest in Minnesota (RIM) Program. The annual report is submitted to the Senate and House Environment and Agriculture committees. Copies are also available for the general public. The report lists the accomplishments of the previous fiscal year.

Statewide Perspective

DNR Projects (FY 91)

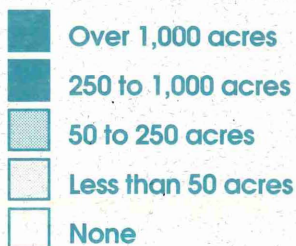

RIM is Minnesota's most comprehensive conservation program. One of its strongest features is a wide range of projects improving the environment and recreation for Minnesotans across the state. These maps show how RIM's DNR projects (primarily public lands) and BWSR projects (private lands) combine to protect and improve soil, water, fish, wildlife, and native plants in every one of Minnesota's 87 counties.

Need and Demand for RIM

The Reinvest in Minnesota (RIM) Program was born in 1986 when Minnesotans realized their soil, water, fish, and wildlife had been badly neglected and that protecting and improving these natural resources must be accelerated and ongoing. Funding for the RIM Program has allowed the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) and the Board of Water and Soil Resources (BWSR) to carry out thousands of essential conservation projects since 1986. Yet, the state's fish, wildlife, soil, water, and native plant communities still need more help from RIM's "conservation tools."

Minnesota citizens continue to show their support for RIM. For example, applications for RIM Reserve have exceeded appropriations each year the program has existed. And RIM's Critical Habitat Match continues to receive private donations for improving and protecting critical fish and wildlife habitat at the rate of about $1.5 million per year.

RIM's popular and proven activities need stable funding. The DNR's Fish and Wildlife Enhancement program will be at a minimal level for the next fiscal year (FY 93) since there are no RIM funds remaining from previous bonding appropriations. Also, because of unstable funding, RIM's Prairie Bank, Wildlife Acquisition, and Fisheries Acquisition programs are currently on hold until additional funding is available. Since it began in 1987, RIM Reserve has never been able to enroll all of the annual requests from landowners, resulting in thousands of acres not being restored for their conservation benefits to water quality and wildlife.

This year, continuing funding for RIM will be requested from bonding for FY 93-4 and the Environment and Natural Resources Trust Fund for FY 94-5.
