Introduction

The Minnesota Department of Jobs and Training quarterly publication on covered employment and wages by economic region and county has been reformatted and improved. The changes were made beginning with the first quarter 1987 publication in response to the increasing demand for more detailed economic information about employment in Minnesota. Users familiar with the publication will note two major improvements. The data has been expanded to include two digits of industry detail wherever possible. Because of the greater detail, the possibility of violating data privacy laws has increased. To avoid this situation and to maintain the mandated confidentiality of individual firm data it was necessary to combine industries wherever there are too few firms in an industry cell. For this reason, some counties show less industry detail than others. The second major improvement is the inclusion of averages for employment and wages. This should serve as a convenient and quick reference for users.

The source of the information is data developed and analyzed by the Research and Statistics Office of the Minnesota Department of Jobs and Training. The data is selected from quarterly tax reports submitted by employers covered under the Minnesota unemployment compensation tax law. All individual employer data is confidential. The data selected is reviewed for accuracy and organized in accordance with the U.S. 1972 Standard Industrial Classification Manual. Approximately 97 percent of the total nonagricultural wage and salary employment in Minnesota is included. There are nine categories of workers excluded from coverage under Minnesota State law:

- 1) the self-employed;
- 2) farms with less than four employees in 20 weeks;
- 3) all railroad transportation employment;
- 4) insurance and real estate salespeople who work only on a commission basis;
- 5) students working for the school while a full-time student;
- 6) those employed by a church or synagogue for religious work;
- 7) minor children, spouse and parents working for the owner of a business;
- 8) elected officials at the Federal, State and Local level of government;
- 9) the Red Lake Chippewa Tribe.

Terms

This section defines a number of key terms necessary to use this data.

The term units refers to the number of plant locations or work sites within the industry and county. For example, there are seven units of the U.S. Post Office in Morrison County.

Monthly employment is reported by job site, not residence of the employees and represents a count of workers on employer payrolls for the week including the 12th of the month.

Average employment is calculated by summing the three monthly figures and dividing by 3. Sub-totals do not necessarily add to totals because of rounding.

Total wages represent wages paid during the entire quarter.

The average weekly wage is calculated by dividing total wages paid by average employment and that figure by 13. Average weekly wage figures should be used with caution. Some industries employ more temporary or part-time workers than others and this has the affect of lowering the average weekly wage. Also, average weekly wages in some industries may be high because of bonuses paid at the end of a year, or because lower paid seasonal workers were laid off.

Unallocated employment is listed on page 31. It represents employment of traveling salespeople who have no attachment to a specific work site and those few employers who are not able to report multiple business locations separately.

Covered Employment and Wages Rise in Minnesota

Minnesota Covered employment in the second quarter of 1987 averaged 1,907,715 per month, an increase of 64,963 jobs from the same period a year ago. Private industry generated 58,074 of this increase, while the remainder came from all levels of government. The total payroll for the period was almost $9.6 billion, up 6.9 percent from the same quarter in 1987. On average, workers were paid $387 per week compared to $375 per week a year ago. Unusually favorable weather conditions continued and were a contributing factor in the 3.5 percent employment gain from a year ago.

Manufacturing employment grew a modest 6,495 or 1.8 percent over the quarter, rising to a level only 0.9 percent above a year ago. A good portion of this growth is attributed to a healthy construction industry which utilizes manufactured products from the lumber & wood, stone, clay & glass, and electrical machinery industries. These industries are all operating at employment levels well above a year ago. Other manufacturing industries which also did well are the printing & publishing and the rubber & plastics industries. Both have established long range growth patterns. Some manufacturing industries such as non-electrical machinery, instruments, miscellaneous manufacturing and fabricated metals have not rebounded from past reductions and are currently operating at levels well below a year ago. Most of the decline in these industries occurred in the Twin Cities Region. Reductions in non-electrical machinery also were noted in Regions 8 and 10. Of the thirteen Minnesota Economic Regions, only Regions 6E and 9 have manufacturing as the leading employing industry.

The Construction industry experienced a strong employment gain of 28.6 percent from the first to the second quarters of 1987, employing 8,941 more construction workers than in the same quarter the year before, an increase of 12.1 percent. Warmer than normal and almost snow free weather conditions, coupled with lowered interest rates, allowed the construction industry to get an early seasonal start on an increasing number of new and uncompleted projects. Practically all regions in the State experienced increased construction employment. Approximately 52 percent of the 18,445 employment increase took place in the Twin Cities Met Region.

The Trade industry division has more workers on payrolls than any other industry division in Minnesota. Trade employed approximately one out of four covered workers in the State and averaged 488,402 workers during April, May, and June of 1987. This is an increase of 17,807 from the preceding quarter, and 17,172 more workers than were reported the second quarter of 1986. Of the thirteen economic regions in Minnesota, seven reported Trade as the dominant employment industry division. They are Regions 1, 4, 5, 7E, 7W, 8 and 11. (See Map I.)

The Services industry division, the second largest industry in Minnesota, is the fastest growing. Services increased by 13,141 in the second quarter of 1987 and the industry has 23,227 more workers on payrolls than a year earlier. Business services, health services, social services, and personal services are responsible for most of the growth in this industry division. All regions shared in the employment growth of this division. In Region 10 services is the leading employment industry.

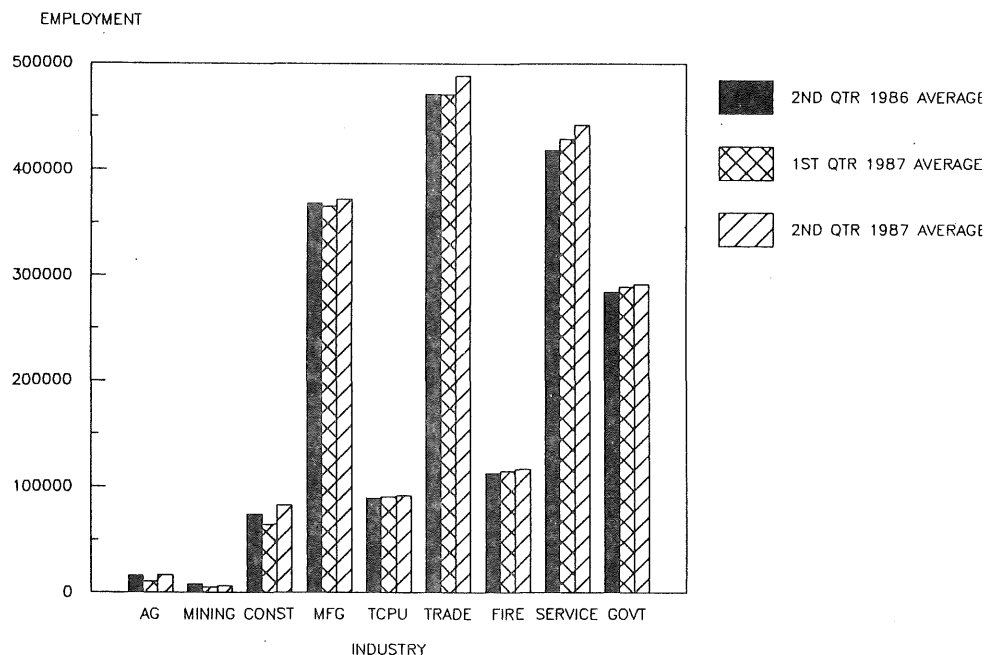

Employment in the Finance, Insurance and Real Estate division exceeds year ago levels by 3,827 workers, with most of the increase stemming from credit agencies, insurance carriers, and real estate companies. Adjustments in the banking industry continue to have a negative effect on employment.

Employment in the Transportation, Communications, and Public Utilities division was up slightly as a result of added employment in transportation.

Government employment edged up less than 1 percent over the quarter, with most of the increase coming in local government. Education is the largest component of Government.

Mining experienced a seasonal increase of 1,300 jobs over the quarter. However, operations are considerably below last year's level.

COMPARISON OF COVERED EMPLOYMENT

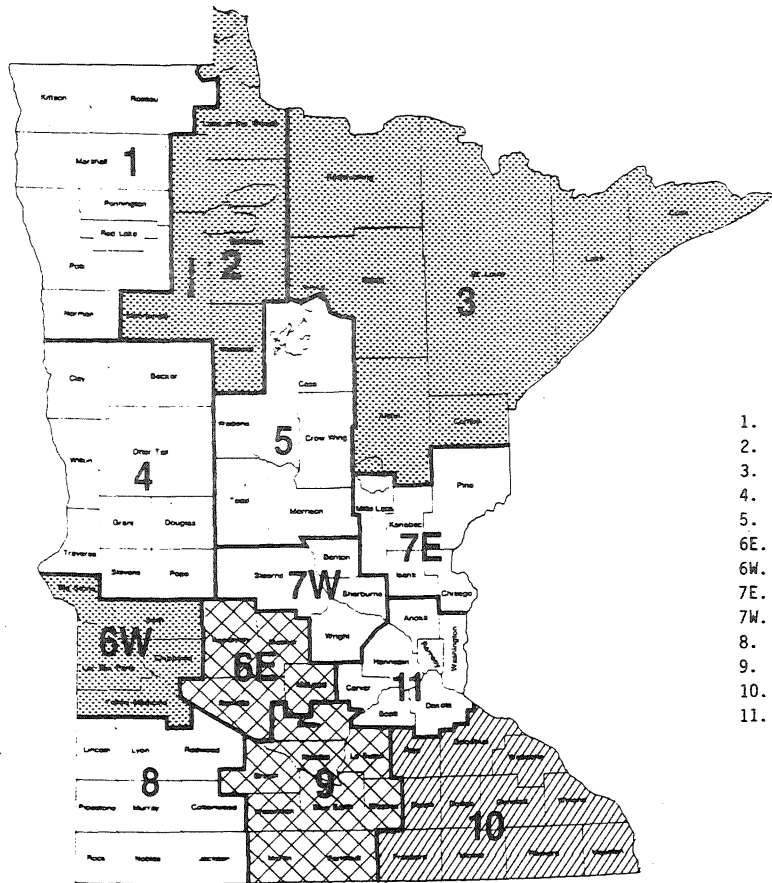

Major Covered Wage Producing Industries

Minnesota total wages from covered employment were approximately $9.6 billion in the second quarter of 1987. Manufacturing is not the largest employing industry in Minnesota, but it ranks as the largest total wage producing industry in the State. Manufacturing, which employs 19.5 percent of the Minnesota's workers, accounts for 25.6 percent of the State wage total. Other industry divisions with payrolls of over $1 billion are Services with $1.8 billion, Trade with $1.7 billion, and Government with $1.7 billion. Although Manufacturing is the State's greatest producer of wage income, only four economic regions in the southeast corner of Minnesota (6E, 9, 10, and 11) can list manufacturing as their leading wage producing industry. The remaining nine economic regions list government as their largest wage producing industry this quarter. (See Map II.)

Over the last ten year period (1977-1987) Minnesota's manufacturing employment increased by only 10.7 percent. Except for Mining, which experienced a major decline, only Government grew at a slower pace (10.3 percent). Practically all, 94 percent, of the manufacturing employment gain in this period took place in the four economic regions mentioned above. In the second quarter of 1987 these regions accounted for approximately 84 percent of the State's employment and 89% of the wages.

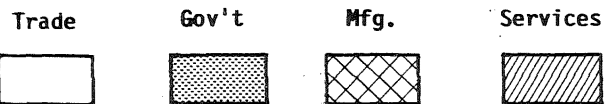

In the four regions in the southeast corner of Minnesota, private industrial employment increased 30.7 percent during the last ten years, while outside that area the growth was only 11.5 percent. Government employment in the State of Minnesota has not increased significantly in ten years. However, changes in reporting practice has caused a shifting of some government employment and wage income from the four region area to the rest of the State giving the impression that increases in the nine region area were greater than actually occurred. An administrative change in 1984 required multi-establishment government agencies to change their reporting practices. Government units are now required to report each employing establishment location separately, instead of in a combined single central office report.
