Minnesota
Community Forestry Resource Directory
1989

A comprehensive reference guide for the administration and management of Minnesota's community forest resource.

With assistance from Minnesota Department of Agriculture, University of Minnesota's College of Natural Resources and the Minnesota Extension Service.

FORWORD

PURPOSE

Trees, shrubs and other greenery which together comprise every municipality's "urban forest", are important factors in the high quality of life we enjoy in Minnesota. Management of community forests is a complex task often requiring information or services not readily available in a community. With the increasing importance of the urban forest as a major factor in maintaining Minnesota's high quality of life, we saw the need for a reference directory that would assist in the administration and management of urban forests. The statewide advancement of urban forestry can best be served by the solid base of information a directory would provide. We strongly believe that this directory will lead urban forestry professionals and others with an interest in urban forestry toward available information and assistance covering a wide range of urban forestry related topics. Valuable contacts can be made and a more efficient urban forestry network can be realized.

DIRECTORY ORGANIZATION

The directory is organized into 4 major sections:

- * Minnesota County and Municipal Offices — all counties and all communities statewide are listed.
- * Organizations involved with community forestry —
  - Private and Professional Organizations
  - Federal Agencies
  - State Agencies
  - Regional Government Agencies
  - Educational Institutions
- * Community Forestry Consultants
- * Appendices — these include other important contacts and offices, such as county extension agents and special libraries, that might be useful for professionals and others interested in community forestry. Also, to promote an active exchange of ideas among professionals and others, mailing labels are included for each entry in the directory.

Each section includes a listing of community related forestry services provided by each of the persons or offices listed. Names and addresses to contact for more information about services offered are given for each listing. For the sections covering organizations and consultants, a description provided by the organization or consultant is included.

THE SURVEY

To compile this directory we conducted a mail survey during the fall of 1987 and compiled the information during 1988. A list of counties and municipalities was generated with the help of the Shade Tree Council. Initially, 800 counties and municipalities were mailed a form and asked to complete and return it. One follow-up was sent to those not returning the form within the first month of the initial mailing. Over 60% of the counties and municipalities responded. Regardless of whether we received a completed form from a county or municipality, we included each of the 800 in the directory. For those not responding though, no information about services provided is included.

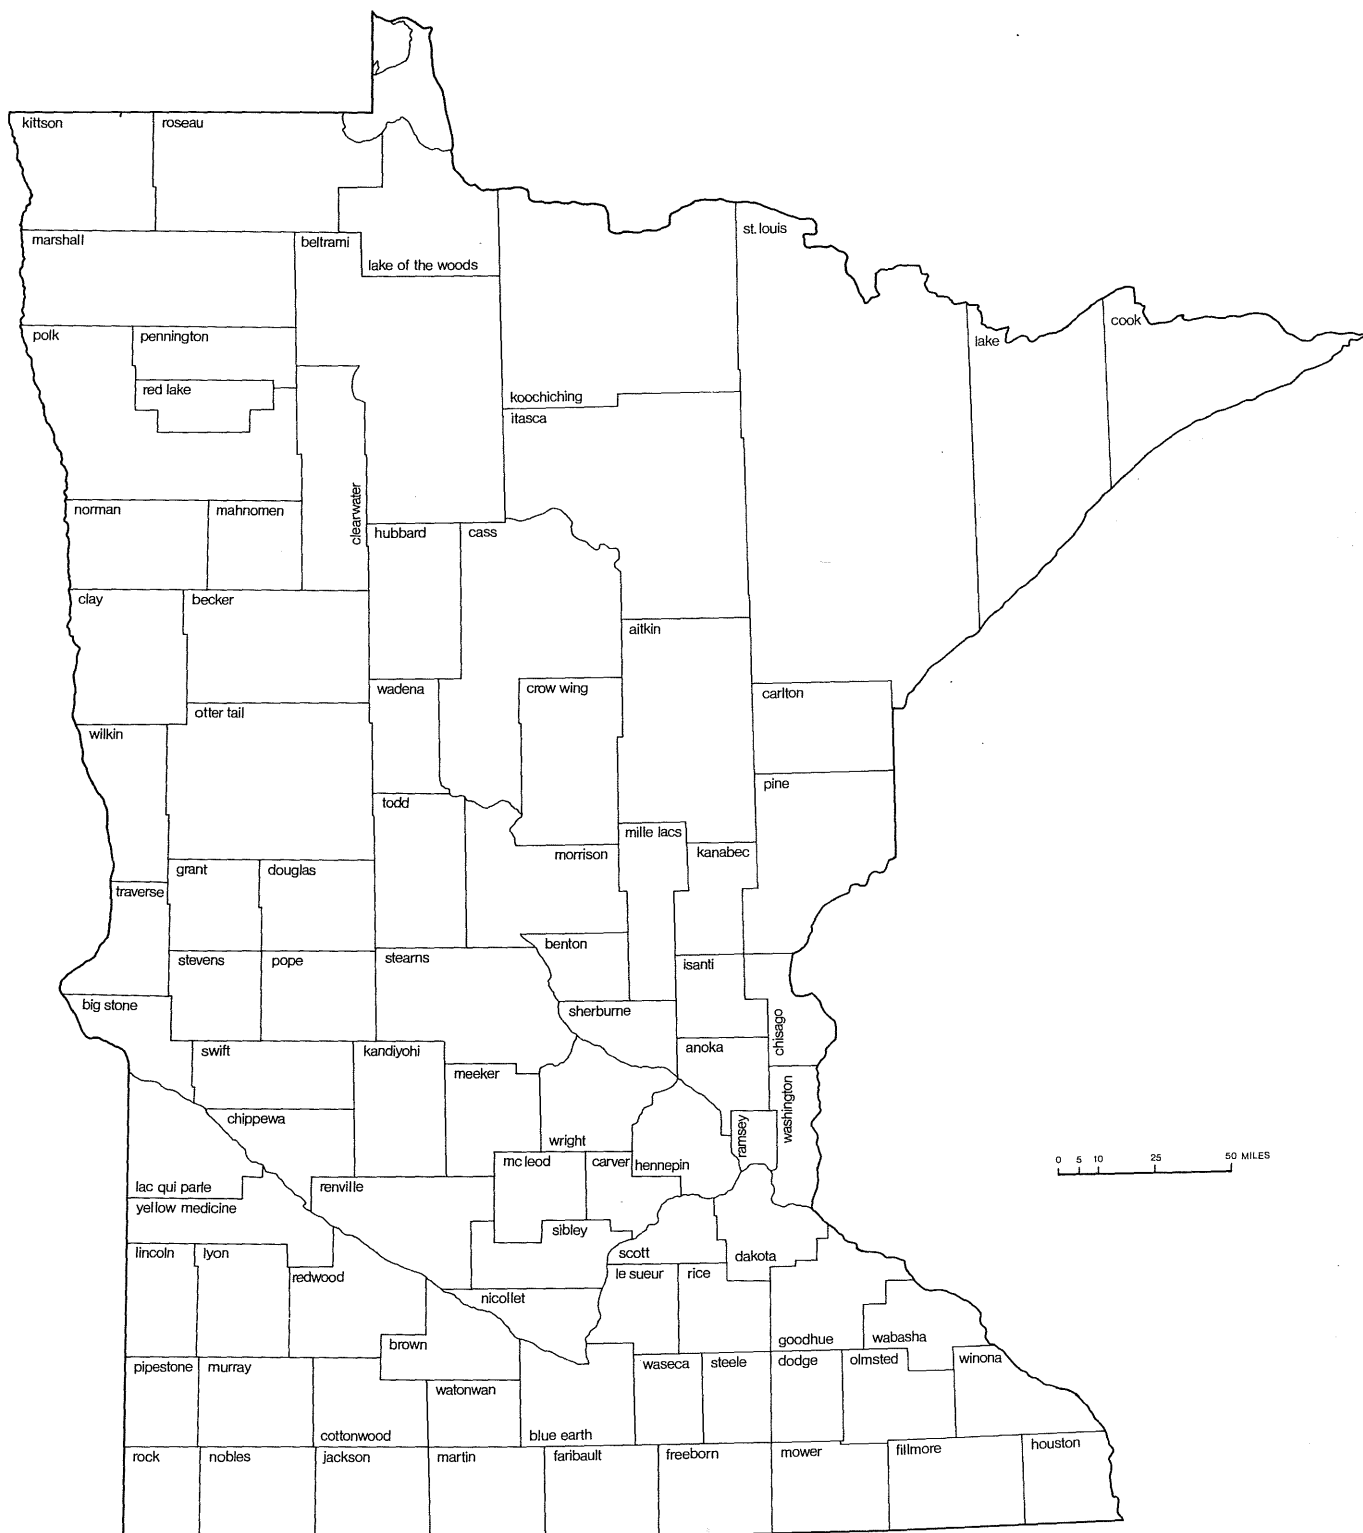

Listings of organizations and private consultants were developed by brainstorming with professionals engaged in community forestry activities. Mail-out survey forms were sent to all of the organizations and consultants identified and one follow-up was sent to those not responding. In addition to the follow-up, for organizations that we believed were well-known and recognized in community forestry circles, telephone calls were made and we encouraged the organization to fill out and return the survey form. Organizations and private consultants not returning forms were not included in the directory.

FUTURE UPDATES

It is our goal to periodically update this directory. At that time we will correct any errors and omissions which naturally occur on a project of this size. We apologize for any mistakes in this version. Please contact the Department of Natural Resources - Division of Forestry with any corrections or suggestions for improving the directory.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The Community Forestry Resource Directory was produced by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, Division of Forestry in cooperation with the Minnesota Department of Agriculture, Shade Tree Program and the University of Minnesota's College of Natural Resources and the Minnesota Extension Service. We also wish to acknowledge Mike Scharer and Jerrilyn Thompson for their work in compiling the data and editing this book.

COUNTY AND MUNICIPAL OFFICES TO CONTACT FOR COMMUNITY FORESTRY INFORMATION

The information presented in this section of the directory is organized alphabetically by municipality. Forestry services which are provided by the municipalities or counties are noted with an asterick "*". Community forestry program components were included in a survey of all Minnesota municipalities and counties.

Municipalities or counties which do not provide any forestry services or did not respond to the questionnaire have no information in the table.

Addresses to contact for community forestry information can be found in the section where all municipalities are listed alphabetically by county.

MUNICIPALITY

All Minnesota municipalities are listed alphabetically in a table depicting specific community forestry components. There is a separate table for county offices. In a separate section, all county and municipal office addresses to contact for community forestry information are listed, alphabetically by county.

COUNTY

The County where the municipality is located. Use this entry to locate the mailing address of the municipal office responsible for community forestry information (e.g., the mailing address for the community of Ada will be located under Norman county).

PROGRAM (PROG)

- Y denotes municipalities with an organized community forestry program or other tree-related programs that involve tree and shrub planting, maintenance, or pest management.
- N denotes municipalities that do not have an organized community forestry program. They may provide some forestry services.
- Z denotes municipalities that did not respond to the survey, therefore the status of their community forestry program is unknown.

ADMINISTRATION and PLANNING (ADMIN & PLANNING)

- a. Existing tree ordinances or specifications regarding insect and disease control, planting, maintenance, removal, etc.
- b. Municipal policy or ordinance for the protection, preservation or replacement of trees or green space with respect to planning, zoning, and development.
- c. Required licensing or permit requirements for tree care services operating within your municipality.
- d. Public "green spaces" in existence or planned within your municipality (e.g., parks, plazas, nature centers, forest or wildlife areas.)
- e. Public information and education regarding trees or other community forestry issues (e.g., media articles, newsletters, talks, tours.)
- f. Municipal tree board (commission) or advisory committee.
- g. Minnesota Department of Agriculture certified tree inspectors on staff or contract.
- h. Current tree inventory.
- i. Arbor Day celebration.
- j. "Champion Tree" program.
- k. Current "Tree City, USA" award from National Arbor Day Foundation (this component is not present in the County table).

COUNTY AND MUNICIPAL OFFICES TO CONTACT FOR COMMUNITY FORESTRY INFORMATION

TREE PLANTING (PLANTING)

- l. Plant trees and shrubs on municipal property.
- m. Planting stock obtained from municipal nursery.
- n. Planting stock obtained from private nurseries or other sources (e.g., county, state.)
- o. Provide financial assistance for tree planting on private property.
- p. Provide technical assistance for tree planting on private property.

TREE MAINTENANCE (MAINTENANCE)

- q. Insect and disease control efforts on municipal property.
- r. Insect and disease control efforts on private property.
- s. Regularly scheduled maintenance of trees and shrubs on municipal property, by municipal employees (e.g., pruning, watering, wrapping, fertilizing.)
- t. Regularly scheduled maintenance of trees and shrubs on municipal property, by private tree service under municipal contract.
- u. Technical assistance (information, material, or services) available for tree maintenance on private property.

TREE REMOVAL (REMOVAL)

- v. Tree removal on municipal property, by municipal employees, to control disease or eliminate safety hazards.
- w. Tree removal on municipal property, by private tree service under municipal contract, to control disease or eliminate safety hazards.
- x. Tree removal on private property, by municipal employees or private tree service under municipal contract, to control disease or eliminate safety hazards.
- y. Provide technical assistance or services to private property owners for diseased-tree removal.
- z. Provide financial assistance to private property owners for diseased-tree removal.

UTILIZATION & MARKETING (U&M)

Forest products from trees removed from municipal property are utilized by the municipality (e.g., fuelwood, wood chips, sawlogs, compost material).

- B. Forest products from municipal trees are marketed.

SOURCES of TECHNICAL INFORMATION (TECH INFO)

Outside the municipal government which are used regarding the community forestry program (concerning insect and disease control, tree maintenance, planting, inventory, etc.)

- C. Private consultants
- D. Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, Division of Forestry
- E. Minnesota Department of Agriculture, Shade Tree Program
- F. Minnesota Extension Service, University of Minnesota
- G. Other sources of technical assistance

SOURCES of ASSISTANCE in the PHYSICAL OPERATIONS (ASSIST)

Outside the municipal government, which are used to implement the community forestry program (concerning insect and disease control, tree maintenance, planting, removal, inventory, etc.)

- H. Private contractors
- I. Nonprofit organizations/work programs
- J. Volunteers
- K. Other sources of assistance

A Listing of Organizations and the Community Forestry Services They Provide

The information presented in these five sections is organized alphabetically by type of organization. Forestry services which are provided by the organizations are noted with a letter code. Community forestry program components were included in a survey of organizations operating in Minnesota. The organization types include:

- * PRIVATE and PROFESSIONAL ORGANIZATIONS
- * FEDERAL AGENCIES
- * STATE AGENCIES
- * REGIONAL GOVERNMENT AGENCIES
- * EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS

Each of the five sections consists of two parts: 1) matrix depicting organizations and the community forestry services they provide and 2) complete addresses and descriptions, including specific information, assistance, training, and services each organization provides, related to community forestry.

AFA is a citizen's conservation group which publishes AMERICAN FORESTS magazine, the most complete publication about forests and trees in the country. Members receive the magazine along with discounts on books, publications, posters and other sales items. Each issue contains at least one article about urban forestry, and reprints from past issues are available. We keep track of our nation's Big Trees, publish the register, and work with volunteers in each state to keep track of national champions. Urban forestry is one of our biggest programs. We publish the National Urban and Community Forum newsletter six times a year and send it free to community activists and leaders. We invite you as a reader, and a contributor. The Forum shares success stories, notes of interest, and gives a technical update in each issue. You are encouraged to send us a list of people, or an individual name to be added to our mailing. AFA also sponsors the National Urban Forestry Council for those who want to become more active in promoting the development of urban forestry. *Other Services: related to general urban forestry issues

Areas of interest are environmental, growth and development issues, infrastructure financing, zoning, and public management of issues.
American Soc of Consultng Arborists Executive Director 700 Canterbury Rd Clearwater FL 34624 813-446-3356		Our membership consists of 190 experts in the U.S. and Canada. These professionals are available for providing services to the urban and community forestry interests in a variety of areas. *Other services: related to establishing values of trees and other plants. (See table for listing of services provided by membership)
Assn for Women in Arboriculture Pro-Tem President 277-285 Martinel Dr. Suite 100 Kent OH 44240 216-678-1912		The goals of AWA are: 1) To promote and enhance career opportunities and advancement (mentoring) 2) To provide a supportive informational network 3) To address special issues and concerns that affect women of the arboriculture/horticulture field. The AWA holds it's meetings at the International Society of Arboriculture's annual conference. The Association is currently seeking interested persons to establish regional chapters in order to be more available on a local level. A newsletter can be obtained by writing to the AWA. The AWA is interested in receiving articles for publication related to the above goals.
Association of Minnesota Counties Legislative Representative 525 Park St Suite 404 St Paul MN 55103 612-224-3344		AMC is a voluntary organization of Minnesota counties which provides a broad range of management and intergovernmental relations services to county officials. The Association aims to improve the operation of county government in Minnesota and the services provided to its citizens.
Bowling Green Beautification Comm Landscape Supervisor 611 Raven St Bowling Green KY 42101 502-782-2489		The Bowling Green Beautification Commission is a tax supported organization under the city of Bowling Green, KY. We do landscaping designs for public places such as parks and publicly owned building sites. Installation and maintenance of plants (trees, shrubs, groundcover, annuals and perennials) are also our responsibility. We have nine Commission members, three full time staff members, and one or two part time workers. Majority of our work force during growing season is provided by Summer Youth Program. We provide educational opportunities to our summer youth people as well as giving talks to different organizations on urban forestry, landscaping design, maintenance, pruning and other related subjects. The Commission is involved in special events such as placing Christmas lights at the city square, lighting of Dogwoods around downtown district, and distribution of Dogwood and Magnolia seedlings in city schools for Arbor Day.
Central MN Small Woodlot Owners Ass Chairman Rt 2 Box 55-A Sebeka MN 56477 218-472-3260		The Central Minnesota Small Woodlot Owners Association is a private organization dedicated to promoting wise management of our woodlands and related resources. Members are primarily private woodland owners from all walks of life. We conduct and co-sponsor woodland owner field days and tours that tell and show how to manage woodlands wisely, including planting, thinning, wildlife, and harvesting, and where to get advise and assistance. We annually sponsor two sealed bid timber auctions for our members' stumpage. We are an organization which speaks publicly for woodland owners and forestry in Minnesota. *Other Services: related to private land timber auctions.

ORGANIZATION ADDRESS	DESCRIPTION OF COMMUNITY FORESTRY SERVICE
Council of Tree&amp;Landscape Appraisers 1250 I St NW Suite 504 Washington DC 20005 202-789-2592	CTLA represents American Association of Nurserymen, American Society of Consulting Arborists, Associated Landscape Contractors of America, International Society of Arboriculture, & National Arborist Association. The Council was created to communicate some important facts to the public: trees & landscape plants have a financial value of their own, beyond the value of the property as a whole; that value can be measured by professionals in the field; & when landscape plantings suffer damage or destruction, that value may be replaced through insurance claims and/or tax deductions. The Council distributes news stories, feature articles, slide/tape programs, & printed materials. Sponsoring organizations meet throughout the year to develop these tools, and a small office operation handles their distribution. The Council authors the Guide for Evaluation of Trees and Other Plants, and the Manual for Plant Appraisers, & works to promote the concept that plants have more than ornamental value, including values in air purification, noise abatement, shade, screening, erosion control, & architectural enhancement. As the official spokesman for the horticultural appraisal and evaluation profession, CTLA believes that the value of plants can be measured by competent appraisal. The Council sponsors local, state, and national seminars and clinics to educate professional arborists, nurserymen, plantsmen in the special techniques of plant appraisal. The Council is not a membership organization but a wing of each of the sponsoring organizations.
Federated Garden Clubs of MN, Inc President 3000 McLeod St Burnsville MN 55337 612-890-5066	Federated Garden Clubs offers a Landscape Design Critics course with the intent of teaching citizens to recognize good landscape design in private and public areas. This course is open to anyone and is taught by University professors, landscape architects, and experts from Departments of Transportation and Natural Resources. Other Services: related to general landscape and gardening issues.
Forestree Farmers of Minnesota, Inc President PO Box 363 Park Rapids MN 56470 218-732-9819	Have published five editions of the "Forest Management Digest" and circulates the "Timberlines" newsletter 6 times a year, and "Woodchips" newsletter from Michigan 4 times a year. Annual dues of $15 covers membership in FFM and the Minnesota Forestry Association. Forestry education through information. 130 members in 1987.
Freshwater Foundation Coordinator of Information Services 2500 Shadywood Rd Box 90 Navarre MN 55392 612-471-7467	The Freshwater Foundation can supply information on water and watershed policy, problems, use, and management. The Foundation presently has no programs specifically emphasizing community forestry. However, since water is as vital to healthy trees as it is to healthy people, our information could be useful to people involved with community forestry. *Other Services: related to water issues.
Friend of St Paul &amp; Ramsey Co Parks Executive Director 1621 Beechwood Av St Paul MN 55116 612-698-4543	The Friends of St Paul & Ramsey County Parks is sponsoring a task force of citizens from the St Paul and Ramsey County communities to examine the mission, policies, operations and development of the park systems. This task force is working with a park consultant to develop plans for the park systems to guide operations, acquisition, and development into the 21st century. Forestry is part of the Park Departments for the city and county, and in that context the task force will be examining policies regarding forestry management.

League of Minnesota Cities Executive Director 183 University Av E St Paul MN 55101 612-227-5600	The League of Minnesota Cities is the official cooperative association of cities serving the needs and best interests of the state's municipalities. The League represents 788 of the 855 cities in Minnesota. The League represents cities working together to promote legislation on behalf of local governments, and provides information and other resources to assist city officials in their efforts to improve the quality of service delivery in Minnesota cities.
Maple Grove Arbor Committee Chairperson 6761 Deerwood Lane N Maple Grove MN 55369 612-425-8744	The Maple Grove Arbor Committee, a volunteer advisory body to the City, is involved in numerous activities throughout the entire year. Education is ongoing and is focused towards residents of the community, city departments, (i.e. Community Development, Engineering, Parks and Recreation), and commercial and residential developers. Through cable tv, city newsletters, local press, a city "Resident's Guide", our own publications, a spring seedling sale, and a workshop with developers, the Arbor Committee gives information on the selection, care, health, and maintenance of trees, and better ways to minimize construction damage. The Arbor Committee also has a tree sponsorship program that is creating an Arboretum in a community park. The Arbor Committee also reviews preliminary site plats where trees are involved. All woodlots in undeveloped areas of the city are to be inventoried. This inventory will help in the work of reviewing preliminary site plats. *Other Services: related to the promotion of tree planting and preservation and community arboretum signs and markers.

ORGANIZATION ADDRESS	DESCRIPTION OF COMMUNITY FORESTRY SERVICE
Master Gardeners Area Extension Horticulturist 3675 Arboretum Drive Box 39 Chanhassen MN 55317 612-443-2460	The Master Gardener program is basically a volunteer training system. It is made up of people who know a lot about gardening, who want to help other people learn how to grow plants in and around their homes, and who will be able to return to their communities to answer their neighbors' gardening questions. The program brings them up to date on new methods of gardening, reinforces previous knowledge, and teaches them to disseminate this information effectively. In order to accomplish this task, the Minnesota Extension Service identifies potential Master Gardeners, and offers them free comprehensive training in return for their volunteer service. There are about 900 active Master Gardeners throughout Minnesota. Candidates are selected on their experience, availability, and willingness to help others. Recruitment is done through County Extension Offices where all Master Gardener activities are coordinated. Master Gardeners volunteer a minimum of 25 hours per year. Concerned with beautification and education, Master Gardeners are instrumental in carrying out Arbor Day activities, promoting community plantings, supporting maintenance programs, and making arboriculture programs a cooperative effort. If your community has a tree board, ask a Master Gardener to serve. With their interest and knowledge of plants, they can function as both a valuable member and a vital link to other tree lovers in your town. For more information, contact your local County Extension Service office.

We have co-sponsored seminars with the American Forestry Association and the International Society of Arboriculture. We have also run additional workshops, particularly in areas of tree maintenance. *Other Services: related to soils, and plant performance (hardiness, etc) and effects of man on trees (construction damage, etc)
Minnesota State Horticultural Soc Executive Director 161 Alderman Hall 1970 Folwell St Paul MN 55108 612-624-7752	The Minnesota State Horticultural Society is a statewide organization founded in 1866 to develop the art and science of horticulture in the severe northern climate. The "Minnesota Horticulturist" magazine is published by the Society nine times a year to aid your efforts in landscaping and growing fruits, flowers, houseplants, vegetables, grasses, trees, ornamental plants and shrubs. We have a 2000 volume horticulture library with books, slides and video tapes available to members by mail. The Society offers educational programs on garden topics. The Garden Line is provided to answer gardeners' questions. Minnesota State Horticultural Society also is working with the DNR to reactivate the Heritage Tree Program, to recognize historic and unusual trees throughout Minnesota. The Minnesota Green program coordinates resources to develop land stewardship through the use of vacant land for community gardens.
Mother Earth's Educational Theatre Director 2037 Novak Av Stillwater MN 55082 612-436-1836	Mother Earth's Educational Theatre (MEET) provides programs to schools, nature centers, pre-schools, and other groups. One of our costumed characters, "treesa Tree" will present an "educationally entertaining" program which includes songs, magic, audience participation and factual information. We put emphasis on education but present this education in an entertaining manner. MEET will also develop group programs upon special request. *Other Services: related to how trees relate in the ecosystem and tree appreciation.
Municipal Arborists &amp; Urban Foresters Secretary/Treasurer/Editor PO Box 1255 Freehold NJ 07728 201-431-7903	This society was established to provide a stable, active organization that would sustain long range programs within the field of municipal arboriculture or urban forestry. Membership is limited to persons actively employed in or retired from the field of arboriculture. This includes positions within the field at various levels of government, allied fields of arboriculture or urban forestry. We are in the process of developing a manual on tree pruning and tree planting procedures. We are also in the process of developing various tree ordinances. These projects are expected to be completed by the end of 1988.
National Arbor Day Foundation Administrative Assistant 100 Arbor Av Nebraska City NE 68410 402-474-5655	The National Arbor Day Foundation sponsors Tree City USA, a community improvement program initiated in 1976. A cooperative program with the U.S. Forest Service and the National Association of State Foresters, Tree City USA is designed to provide direction, technical assistance, and public recognition for municipal tree-care efforts. To be named a Tree City USA, a community must meet four standards: 1) a tree board or department, 2) a tree care ordinance, 3) a comprehensive community forestry program supported by a minimum of $1 per capita, and 4) the observance of Arbor Day.

National Inst. for Urban Wildlife Vice President for Research 10921 Trotting Ridge Way Columbia 301-596-3311	MD 21044	The Institute is a private, nonprofit scientific and educational organization dedicated to wildlife research, management, and conservation education programs and activities for the benefit of people and wildlife in urban, suburban and urbanizing areas. Most of the work of the Institute results in some form of publication--scientific, technical, semi-technical, or popular--for various audiences. A quarterly newsletter, "Urban Wildlife News", and an accompanying supplement, "Urban Wildlife Manager's Notebook", are mailed to members paying $25 annual dues. Staff provides technical services on a consulting basis dealing with all aspects of wildlife and wildlife habitat in metropolitan areas. An on-going Urban Wildlife Sanctuary Program establishes and certifies a network of sanctuaries on public and privately-owned lands across the nation. The program is broad and applies to properties of individuals, neighborhood associations, community organizations, cities and towns, corporations, and developers.
National Recreation & Park Assn. Public Affairs Director 3101 Park Center Dr Suite 1200 Alexandria 703-820-4940	VA 22302	NRPA has an on-going series of publications, regional and national meetings and special training and education events. Many of these cover topics of direct or indirect value to persons associated more directly with urban forestry. Ongoing publications include: "Parks and Recreation" (monthly magazine); "Journal of Leisure Research" (quarterly); "Park Practice Program" (quarterly), and others. NRPA has affiliate organizations in all states.
Project Environment Foundation Forestry Intern 1313 5th St SE Suite 323 Minneapolis 612-379-3856	MN 55414	We initiate research projects relating to the use and preservation of unique ecosystems and public lands, etc. We review resource plans and comment on their contents and recommend environmentally sound policies for the public lands. By meeting with DNR resource planners we hope to develop constructive discussion on Minnesota environmental issues.
Project Learning Tree Coordinator 500 Lafayette Rd Box 5 St Paul 612-297-2214	MN 55155-4005	Project Learning Tree is an award-winning national environmental education program designed for teachers and other educators working with students in kindergarten through grade 12. Society of American Foresters Minnesota Section c/o College of Forestry, U of M Chair-Policy & Legislation Committee 1530 N Cleveland Av St Paul MN 55108 612-624-3400	Society of American Foresters (SAF) is a professional society of forestry students, graduates of professional forestry curricula in SAF accredited schools, and scientists or practitioners in fields closely allied to forestry who hold bachelor or higher degrees. Members may also be students or graduates of SAF-recognized forestry technician programs. The Minnesota Section of the SAF has over 500 members. The Journal of Forestry keeps members up-to-date on forestry issues as well as activities of SAF members, practical forestry information, and information on new forestry products and equipment. The SAF sponsors regional technical conferences, and chapter, state, and national educational meetings. The SAF has an Urban Forest working group and members of the SAF assist communities on a variety of issues/tasks. Contact the Society of American Foresters, Coordinator, Membership, Department and Services, 5400 Grosvenor Lane, Bethesda, Maryland 20814, or phone 301-879-8720. The SAF's members are highly active professionally and by community service on a wide array of community forestry/resource issues/problems.
The Nature Conservancy Assistant Director 1313 Fifth St SE Suite 320 Minneapolis MN 55414-1524 612-379-2134	The Nature Conservancy is a national, nonprofit corporation whose resources are devoted to the protection of ecologically significant areas and the diversity of life they support. The private membership organization places highest priority on the preservation of rare and endangered species through the systematic protection of critical habitats. The Conservancy works by: 1) Identifying lands that shelter the best examples of natural communities and species; determining what is truly rare and where it exists. 2) Protecting habitats and natural systems through acquisition by gift or purchase; assisting government and other conservation organizations in their land preservation efforts. 3) Managing more than 1000 preserves using staff and volunteer land stewards; encouraging compatible use of the sanctuaries by researchers, students, and the public. State Natural Heritage Inventory Programs, usually administered by a state agency, are ongoing inventories that identify rare, natural elements and their locations within a particular state. The scientific information gathered by the inventory indicates the relative rarity of plant and animal species, aquatic and plant communities, and other significant ecological features. The data can be useful in guiding development siting decisions, resource planning, and conservation initiatives.
The WalkWays Center President 733 15th St NW Suite 427 Washington DC 20005 202-737-9555	The WalkWays Center is a national nonprofit membership organization formed in 1985 to promote walking for health and recreation; provide information about walking; represent the needs of pedestrians and the 100 million people who, national surveys show, walk on a regular basis each week; and to work with local communities to improve walking facilities. The Center focuses most of its attention on urban areas, where 75% of the U.S. population lives, and where the needs are greatest for safer pedestrian facilities and for close-to-home recreation. With the support of corporations, foundations and private donors, the Center is launching a community self-help program entitled "Walkways at Your Doorstep" to enable citizen groups and town and city officials to more easily develop interconnected walking routes. These walkways can link neighborhoods, parks, schools and business districts; highlight a community's natural, historic, architectural, cultural and scenic features; and provide opportunities for conservation, historic preservation, and revitalizing downtown business districts. Please contact the WalkWays Center for a list and full description of specific services available.
TreePeople, Inc Manager of Forestry Programs 12601 Munholland Dr Beverly Hills CA 90210 213-273-8733	TreePeople is an environmental, community service organization that has been serving the Los Angeles area for more than 15 years. Our goal is to inspire Southern Californians to take an active part in caring for their environment through planting trees. We organize volunteers from the Los Angeles area to assist the local U.S. Forest Service in replanting burned over forests. TreePeople has an extensive urban planting program which teaches community groups and individuals how to regreen their neighborhoods, these people are called "Citizen Foresters." All plantings are supervised by well trained volunteers. Maintenance is also an important aspect of all TreePeople projects. Publications on the subject of urban forestry are available from TreePeople. "A Planters's Guide to the Urban Forest" covers everything from fundraising to tree maintenance in the city. A donation of $15.00 is asked to cover the costs of printing. "The Citizen Foresters Workbook" is a handy reference for community planters. They can fill in their own specifics while planning. *Other Services: related to community organizing, and children's conservation education.

Trees Atlanta, Inc Executive Director 96 Poplar St SW Atlanta 404-522-4097	GA 30303	We raise funds privately to plant trees along sidewalks in central city. We sponsor seminars for developers on how to preserve trees on construction sites. Through slide programs, we educate people about needs of urban forestry. We encourage service organizations to plant trees.
Twin Cities Tree Trust President 4100 Vernon Ave S St Louis Park 612-920-9326	MN 55416-3199	The Twin City Tree Trust is a private non-profit corporation serving the Metropolitan area through a variety of public service employment programs. It began in the spring of 1976 with an effort to preserve the urban forest under the threat of Dutch Elm disease. To date the Tree Trust has planted over 300,000 whips and seedlings and 25,000 balled and burlapped trees onto public property. The Tree Trust has expanded it's focus to include landscaping, park maintenance and construction of trails, boardwalks, retaining walls, stairways and similar facilities. The cost for these services are usually just the cost of materials; the cost is also dependent upon the contract the Tree Trust is operating under. The Tree Trust has employed over 13,000 youth under the summer youth employment program. This program is targeted toward the physically and mentally handicapped and the economically disadvantaged.
West Side Citizen's Organization Chair, Environmental Committee 209 W Page St St Paul 612-292-8020	MN 55107	WSCO's Environmental Committee is a group of one or two dozen concerned citizens, organized for environmental action projects in their own community, the "west side" of St Paul. We have successfully fought for banning the burning of PCB's at NSP's highbridge plant, better downtown (St Paul) airport noise control, neighborhood cleanups and the relocation of displaced wildlife from the airport expansion runway area to the Lake Pickeral area. We will be lobbying to save the bald eagles' trees in the Pig's Eye area near Holman Field. We work with the city and Neighborhood Housing Services to get and maintain shade trees for boulevards and parks in our neighborhood. We are interested in all forms of public education relating to a better environment. We definitely want to see cleaner, healthier parks and lakes on the west side and along the river bluffs. Please call WSCO when you have decisions that need community input or projects that can use community volunteers.
Woody Plant Society Editor 1315 66th Av NE Minneapolis 612-574-1197	MN 55432	The Woody Plant Society is an organization of both horticultural professionals and amateurs interested in woody plants. The purpose of this organization is to develop wider interest in and knowledge of unused, rare, and superior species and forms of woody plants which are adaptable to the upper midwest. To carry out these aims, the Woody Plant Society encourages the trial and exchange of plant materials and the dissemination of information about their nomenclature, propagation, and horticultural and landscape design uses. The Society publishes the Woody Plant Society Bulletin, a twice-yearly journal of horticultural topics ranging from new elm varieties, to a discussion of hardy rhododendrons. The Bulletin announces the details and programs of upcoming events, and summarizes the outcome of every meeting, keeping the membership abreast of pertinent issues. Results of the previous year's research project are published the following winter. A slide file is presently being developed for use by members for educational purposes. *Other Services: related to new woody plant varieties.

In the area of recreation management, the Corps provides opportunities for public recreation at many of their water resource projects in Minnesota. Publications describing these recreation areas are available from the District Office in St. Paul. The Corps participates in cost-sharing programs for the development of new recreation facilities at the existing water resource projects. The Waterways Experiment Station (WES) located in Vicksburg, Mississippi is a Corps facility which conducts research on recreation management. Technical bulletins and publications produced by WES may be available through referral, although I am not aware of any listings of these materials specifically for public distribution.

North Central has a research mission in the areas of: soil science, wildlife habitat, tree diseases of nursery stock and plantations, forest inventory and analysis, silviculture of fine hardwoods in natural stands and in plantations, processing hardwoods, urban forest recreation resources, silviculture of oak-hickory forest, fire management, insect problems in NC states, silviculture of aspen and birch, water quality, engineering involved in forest management, intensive management of plantations for fiber, landscape ecology. These studies apply more to wide scale forestry operations (in particular the national forest system) than to small community-type landscapes and forest. Our staff can offer opinions by phone or mail, but usually do not go out on individual consultation. We generally refer municipal-type of tree problems to the University tree clinic or to extension forestry.

We conduct research aimed at guiding the management of urban forest recreation resources. To do this we develop models to help managers predict 1) how people will perceive particular urban forest areas, 2) which sites people will select from a set that is available to them, and 3) how much use can be expected at a site on a particular day. Our work gives significant attention to how people respond to changes in the urban forest environment. *Other Services: related to esthetics.

NEEB is a unique organization composed of thirteen regional councils engaged in genuine grassroots environmental education projects. Council members are volunteers, and professional staff assist them in projects. Forestry-related programs are often directed at school children, teachers, or the general public. Council members frequently have expertise in forestry topics and assist in developing special events. Curriculum materials for the schools are distributed, such as "Adopt a Woods." See Regional Government section for addresses, program descriptions, and a map of affiliated Regional Environmental Education Councils (REECs). *Other Services: related to school curriculum and teacher workshops.

The LMIC is a repository for natural resource and other geographic information databases. LMIC provides assistance, training and natural resource analysis and modeling capabilities through its service center. LMIC's databases include copies of the timber types from the statewide forest survey and copies of DNR's detailed forest inventory on state lands. LMIC can assist with land use and resource planning at the community level. *Other Services: related to computer database on resources.

STATE AGENCY ADDRESS	DESCRIPTION OF COMMUNITY FORESTRY SERVICE
Natural Resources, Dept of (DNR) Forestry Division Cooperative Forest Mgt Specialist 500 Lafayette Rd Box 44 St Paul MN 55155 612-296-5970	DNR Station Foresters, Forestry Technicians & Private Forest Management Specialists can diagnose pest and physiological problems found in woodlot, urban, and shelterbelt trees. They can provide information, technical assistance, and control recommendations. Referrals are made to Forest Pest Specialists in four regional locations, which have laboratory support (see appendix for list of regional offices).
Natural Resources, Dept of (DNR) Information & Education Bureau Environmental Education Section 500 Lafayette Rd DNR Bldg St Paul MN 55155	 No Information Available **
Natural Resources, Dept of (DNR) Wildlife Section Non-Game Wildlife Supervisor 500 Lafayette Rd St Paul MN 55155-4007 612-296-3344	Most of our calls related to community forests are either about the species that inhabit them, deer, raccoon, birds, etc. or types of woodland species best suited to attract wildlife. The nongame program has produced a book entitled "Landscaping for Wildlife". We also have publications on raccoon control, and planting woody cover for wildlife, etc.
Natural Resources, Dept of (DNR) Wildlife Division Project WILD Coordinator 500 Lafayette Rd DNR Bldg St Paul MN 55155-4007 612-297-2423	Project WILD is an award-winning conservation education program emphasizing wildlife. Presently, it is being introduced to various educators in Minnesota including, but not limited to, K-12 teachers, nature centers, 4-H, museum and zoo volunteers, college students, and Scout leaders. Workshops are held throughout the state on an ongoing basis. Participants receive the Project WILD Guide and a packet of resource materials from the Minnesota DNR with information on Minnesota's wildlife species. In addition to the activities outlined in the guides and workshop leader training, Project WILD also has posters and special curriculum packets. The basic mission of Project WILD is to help youngsters learn how to think, not what to think. Project WILD is designed to prepare young people for making decisions affecting people, wildlife, and their shared home, the earth.
Trade & Economic Development, Dept Environmental Resources Development Director 150 E Kellogg Blvd Suite 900 St Paul MN 55101 612-297-3190	The ERD office provides information and referral for a host of environmental issues. Specifically, we run three programs and several special projects which include Minnesota Beautiful, the Minnesota Community Improvement Program, and The Governor's Design Team. Our staff monitors statewide projects related to Arbor Day, railroad ties, used oil, batteries, and wildflower/prairie restoration/preservation. We receive many calls regarding the subjects mentioned on the matrix, and we refer them to staff at the DNR or MDA.
Trade & Economic Development, Dept Governor's Design Team Program Coordinator 150 E Kellogg Blvd Suite 900 St Paul MN 55101 612-297-3190	The Governor's Design Team is co-sponsored by: Dept. of Trade and Economic Development (DTED), the Minnesota Chapter of the American Institute of Architects (MSAIA) and the Minnesota Chapter of the American Society of Landscape Architects (MASLA). DTED: Provide community linkages within DTED to possible funding and follow through sources - i.e., Federal Land & Water Conservation Outdoor Recreation Grants Program (LAWCON). We also can suggest types for professionals who may be resource people. We do not refer to specific firms or professionals. MSAIA: Is the professional support organization. MASLA: a newly endorsed sponsor, may provide referrals.
Trade & Economic Development, Dept Minnesota Beautiful Program Coordinator 150 E Kellogg Blvd Suite 900 St Paul MN 55101 612-297-3190	TRAINING: Annual workshops includes tree planting and maintenance seminars. INFORMATION: Provide "A Teacher's Guide to Arbor Month" brochure and "Tree Planting" brochure. NOTE: On the Minnesota Beautiful steering committee are members from the Dept. of Agriculture, DNR, Education, Trade & Economic Development, and several private citizens and businesses. These members provide answers or referrals for almost any question that comes up. Also, our close working relationship with IRRRB, Minnesota Forestry Association, Minnesota Landscape Arboretum, and Minnesota Extension Service offers additional sources for training and referrals.

Trade & Economic Development, Dept Minnesota Community Improvmt Prog Program Coordinator 150 E Kellogg Blvd Suite 900 St Paul MN 55101 612-297-3190	TRAINING: Annual workshops include planning for recreation maintenance, etc. TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE: Refer to the Governor's Design Team, DNR Division of Forestry, Mineland Reclamation (IRRRB), etc. NOTE: MCIP gives technical assistance to communities. This includes working with volunteer leaders in the community to organize and initiate projects that enhance the area, needs assessment surveys, and/or town meetings, etc.
Transportation, Dept of (Mn/DOT) Environmental Services Section Forestry Staff Specialist John Ireland Blvd St Paul MN 55155 612-296-0623	Mn/DOT assistance to community forestry includes the following: 1) Developing and implementing landscape planting and management plans for state highway roadsides in communities, including the entrances to the communities. 2) Conducting training sessions for Mn/DOT construction and maintenance personnel on all aspects of woody vegetation management. City, county, state, and private sector personnel are welcome to attend. 3) Cooperating with communities in managing Dutch elm disease and oak wilt on state roadsides. 4) Cooperating with the University of Minnesota in research efforts with trees and other vegetation. All requests for assistance in developing and implementing roadside landscape plans should be addressed to the appropriate Mn/DOT District Engineer. See appendix for a list and map of Mn/DOT District Headquarters.
Water & Soil Resources, Board of Program Specialist 90 W Plato Blvd St Paul MN 55107 612-296-3767	Programs of this agency are implemented by local Soil and Water Conservation Districts (SWCDs). The matrix describes the programs and activities of Minnesota's 91 SWCD's. Districts are located in every county and cooperate with federal, state, and local agencies and officials to deliver resource management programs, including financial incentives and technical assistance. Although generally directed to private, rural landowners, SWCD forestry activities often involve communities, particularly when erosion and sediment control practices are needed in conjunction with forestry measures. See appendix for a list of locations of SWCD offices in the state.

Hennepin Parks conduct reforestation and landscape plantings and tree and shrub maintenance activities on 24,000 acres of park land. Reforestation of former agricultural fields is accomplished using locally produced native plant materials in bare root and seedling plantings. Landscape plantings are done with bare root, B & B, container grown and tree spade nursery stock. Maintenance of reforestation and landscape plantings and mature trees includes weed control, pruning, insect and disease control and protection from other biotic and abiotic pests. All planting and maintenance activities are performed by Hennepin Parks employees. Over 90% of all plant materials used are produced at the Hennepin Parks plant materials nursery.

The IRRRB Mineland Reclamation Division is the State agency responsible for reclamation of abandoned mined lands on the Cuyuna, Mesabi, and Vermilion Iron Ranges in Minnesota. Our work consists of eliminating dangerous areas, establishing vegetation, repairing and preventing erosion and dust problems, and creating another use for these lands, i.e. recreation, wildlife habitat, and/or reforestation. One of our numerous projects is to work with communities located on the three iron ranges to plan and carry out Community Beautification Projects. Primarily these projects involve identifying and preparing a site and then planting trees and/or shrubs that will provide a living screen of areas disturbed by mining. We operate a growth chamber, located at the Hill Annex Mine in Calumet, that produces 150,000 containerized seedlings a year for our reclamation project. Some of these seedlings are used for the Community Beautification Projects. We also own and operate a Vermeer Tree Spade for moving 6' to 10' trees. We have also used this machine for some of our Community Beautification Projects. We have an Annual Arbor Day Open House on Arbor Day and the following Saturday. This allows the general public to tour the inside of the growth chamber and receive a free containerized seedling to take home and plant. We are open to any suggestions the communities may have for how we may assist them in their improvement projects. *Other Services: related to genetic improvement of tree and shrub species.

Metropolitan Mosquito Control Dist
Program Leader-LaCrosse Encephalitis
2380 Wycliff St
St Paul MN 55114
612-645-9149

An important program at Metropolitan Mosquito Control, is the prevention of LaCrosse encephalitis, a viral disease transmitted by a woodland mosquito known as the tree hole mosquito (Aedes triseriatus). The disease afflicts children primarily, and can result in permanent brain damage or death. The tree hole mosquito breeds in natural tree holes (pockets formed where basal stems meet), and man-made containers that collect water. Our program has the following services: 1. We survey wooded areas in the seven county metropolitan area to determine areas of high tree hole mosquito populations. 2. We provide public information and education on the mosquito, LaCrosse encephalitis, and ways of preventing the disease. 3. We provide the public with knowledge and materials to modify tree holes on their property, so that they do not collect water to breed the mosquitoes. We also stress the removal of containers or trash that hold water.

We are a state agency with a professional staff of five to assist in planning, developing, and implementing environmental education programs and activities. Though attached administratively to the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, MEEB and REEC programs are determined by their volunteer members. The approach is one that is unique nationally, in that it allows local people the opportunity to determine local priorities from an environmental/educational perspective. Board, council and task force members are actively involved in the planning and conducting of programs in both formal education circles and non-formal community settings. See State Agency section for MEEB's description & appendix for a map of REEC locations.

The University Biology and Geography Departments occasionally uses the forest for study.
Brainerd Technical Institute Natural Resource Program Instructor 300 Quince St Brainerd MN 56401 218-828-5322	The Brainerd Technical Institute has two programs related to community forestry: the Natural Resource program which covers forestry, fisheries, wildlife and parks. The forestry aspect of the course deals with identification, tree growth and requirements, protection, management, forest development, timber cruising, measurements, products, and logging. The Landscape and Horticulture course deal with ornamental species, nursery operation, protection, and landscaping. For more information contact Jerry Liddle, Landscape program, 218-828-5321.
Carleton College Assisant Professor, Biology Northfield MN 55057 507-663-4000	Carleton offers no services concerning community forestry. Serveral courses would have some relationship to forestry, including Ecology, Vascular Plants, and Field Biology. The Cowling Arboretum is not an arboretum in the real sense. It is a mosaic of floodplain forest (willow, cottonwood, box elder), upland forest (oak, walnut, elm, basswood), successional areas, and agricultural land. There is relatively little active management, but our general goal is regeneration of native communities.
College of St Scholastica Plant Supervisor 1200 Kenwood Av Duluth MN 55811 218-723-6107	The College of St Scholastica offers degrees in Exercise Science, Physical Therapy, and Recreational Management. We have developed on our 160 acre campus a series of indoor and outdoor laboratories to support these programs. These facilities include exercise trails for the handicapped, walking and jogging exercise trails, cross country ski trails, soccer field, ice skating rink, and a baseball field. We would be glad to discuss or provide information on development of these type facilities.

Fergus Falls Community College Biology Instructor 1414 College Way Fergus Falls MN 56537 218-739-7526	We provide a course in basic biology principles that does involve plants and trees. We also offer a basic course in ecology that points out the importance and use of forests. We work with the Fergus Falls park department for information gathering when such help is requested.
Gustavus Adolphus College Carolus Linnaeus Arboretum Interpretive Center Director of Linnaeus Arboretum  St Peter MN 56058 507-931-7626	The Linnaeus Arboretum was established in 1973 for informational and educational purposes in presenting trees and shrubs in a pleasant outdoor setting. In 1987 the interpretive center was built to provide a meeting area and a classroom. A library is being established for reference use, as well as a collection of material on the Swedish botanist Carl Linnaeus. In 1988 a native prairie area will be re-established with prairie plants. Of special interest is a collection of plants received from the Linnaeus Gardens at Uppsala, Sweden. The variety of trees now growing in the arboretum will be increased. Both deciduous and coniferous tree and shrub materials are established and will be improved with the addition of 75 acres. The arboretum now has 55 acres of formal and informal sections. A Swedish immigrant's cabin of native wood built in 1863 shows off the 124 year old construction.
Itasca Community College Forestry Instructor 1851 E Highway 169 Grand Rapids MN 55744 218-327-4206	We have a variety of natural resource and biology courses which train individuals with specific skills. Classes range from ecology to wildlife management, timber scaling, computer applications, and silviculture. We will assist people with their land use problems and decisions. We also provide short courses on topics like wildland fire fighting and chainsaw safety, and provide career counseling. *Other Services: related to fire fighting tactics and career counseling.
Macalester College Ordway Natural History Study Area Resident Naturalist 9550 Inver Grove Trail Inver Grove Heights MN 55075 612-455-6204	Field research courses (field botany, ecology, animal ecology) are taught through the college; made to order community study courses are set up through the naturalist (oak, oak-savannah, birch, and floodplain forests). We run our area as an outdoor lab and research preserve. Professor and students are involved in a wide variety of ecological projects related to community forestry.
Mpls Agribusiness Vocational Ctr Instructor 4717 Dowling St S Minneapolis MN 55104 612-721-5118	City and farm meet in the heart of south Minneapolis where the Minneapolis public schools has its 17 acre Agribusiness Center. This vocational education program is an alternative program for Minneapolis youth. Students in the program are given the opportunity to develop and explore careers in the agricultural and natural sciences, including horticulture. The program aims to promote an understanding and appreciation for plants, animals and the environment. Students participate in the seasonal care, planning and maintenance of a small nature center, golf greens, fruit orchard, prairie restoration, tree nursery, flowers/vegetable gardens and student-designed specialty gardens. In the greenhouse, students select, plant, and care for a variety of plants for both indoor and outdoor use. Using seeds, cuttings, and other means of propagation, plants are produced and used on a cycle-seasonal rotation. Garden areas are designed and planted by students to welcome the many visitors to the Center. ARBORICULTURE: This course deals with the urban forest-the maintenance, planning and importance of trees to the environment. LANDSCAPE & NURSERY PRODUCTION: Students will be given the opportunity to work in a nursery, orchard and landscape setting. Principles of home landscape design will be introduced along with pest control, identification, and the growing and maintenance of nursery stock.

University of Minnesota Center for Community Studies (CCS) Director & Administrator of CCS 201 North Hall U of M St Paul MN 55108 612-625-0270	The Center for Community Studies links Minnesota communities with University of Minnesota students and faculty. CCS matches towns, neighborhoods, & public service groups who are seeking assistance with students and faculty who have the skills they are seeking. The students work under faculty guidance and receive academic credit. The community receives the results of their work. The sponsoring community organizations are expected to provide broad-based citizen involvement in the project and to pay for project expenses. A limited number of projects are done each year through classes or individual students in Landscape Architecture, Urban Forestry, Horticultural Science, and other fields. To qualify, projects need to fit the educational objectives of the University departments and to be appropriate for students (detail design, specifications, and cost estimates need paid professionals, NOT students). Student projects are best in initial planning and design to generate a range of alternative concepts or to do inventory and analysis. Project locations within 100 miles of the Twin Cities are more likely to be selected by students and faculty. Applications are accepted any time by CCS; contact the CCS office for a brochure and application form. *Other Services: related to site design and master planning.

Zumbro Valley Forestry
Gatzlaff, Brad DJ
Consulting Forester
Rt 4 Box 167
Rochester MN 55904
612-753-2069

Zumbro Valley Forestry has been involved in community forestry in rural Minnesota and the city of Rochester. As tree inspectors we have worked with the Shade Tree Program in several communities relating to the Dutch Elm Disease. We have worked with (diagnosed) insect and disease problems in the urban environment as well as outstate. We have consulted individuals with timber trespassing, improper removal of yard trees, and chemical liability cases. We have helped promote forestry and helped manage woodlands for community groups, such as the Isaac Walton League, Boy Scouts, etc. Appraising trees, inventory, and site analysis keep us very busy. *Other Memberships: Minnesota Forestry Association, American Tree Farm Association.
