INTRODUCTION

The Minnesota Employment and Wages by Economic Region and County is published quarterly by the Research and Statistics Office of the Minnesota Department of Jobs and Training. The data contained in this publication includes two digits of industry detail wherever possible. To avoid violating data privacy laws and to maintain the mandated confidentiality of individual firm data it was necessary to combine industries wherever there are too few firms in an industry cell. For this reason, some counties show less industry detail than others.

The source of the information is data developed and analyzed by the Research and Statistics Office of the Minnesota Department of Jobs and Training. The data is selected from quarterly tax reports submitted by employers covered under the Minnesota unemployment compensation tax law. All individual employer data is confidential. The data selected is reviewed for accuracy and organized in accordance with the U.S. 1987 Standard Industrial Classification Manual. Approximately 97 percent of the total nonagricultural wage and salary employment in Minnesota is included. There are nine categories of workers excluded from coverage under Minnesota State law:

- 1) the self-employed;
- 2) farms with less than four employees in 20 weeks;
- 3) all railroad transportation employment;
- 4) insurance and real estate salespeople who work only on commission basis;
- 5) students working for the school while a full-time student;
- 6) those employed by a church or synagogue for religious work;
- 7) minor children, spouse and parents working for owner of a business;
- 8) elected officials at the Federal, State and Local levels of government;
- 9) the Red Lake Chippewa Tribe.

TERMS

This section defines a number of key terms necessary to use this data.

The term units refers to the number of plant locations or work sites within the industry and county. For example, there are seven units of the U.S. Post Office in Morrison County.

Monthly employment is reported by job site, not residence of the employees and represents a count of workers on employer payrolls for the week including the 12th of the month.

Average employment is calculated by summing the three monthly figures and dividing by 3. Sub-totals do not necessarily add to totals because of rounding.

Total wages represent wages paid during the entire quarter.

The average weekly wage is calculated by dividing total wages paid by average employment and then dividing again by 13. Average weekly wage figures should be used with caution. Some industries have more temporary or part-time workers than others and this has the affect of lowering the average weekly wage. Also, average weekly wages in some industries may be high because of bonuses paid at the end of a year, or because lower-paid seasonal workers were laid off.

Unallocated employment is listed on page 31. It represents employment of traveling salespeople who have no attachment to a specific work site or those few employers who are not able to report multiple business locations separately.

First Quarter 1990 Covered Employment

Minnesota's covered employment averaged 2,008,624 during the first three months of 1990, down 50,070 from the last quarter of 1989. This 2.4 percent drop in employment was caused mostly by the usual seasonal downturns in Agriculture and Forestry, Mining, Construction, and Motor Freight and Water Transportation. In comparison the seasonal fourth to first quarter decline in the previous three years was 1.7 percent in 1987, 2.5 percent in 1988, and 2.1 percent in 1989. Total wages dropped 5.9 percent to $11,370,992,247 from nearly $12.1 billion. The average weekly wage for the first quarter approximated $435.

Compared to the first quarter of 1989, employment was up by an average of 46,125 or 2.4 percent. This rate of growth is slightly below the 2.6 percent average over the last fifteen years. As measured by first quarter employment, growth was highest in the years 1976-78, while the recession years of 1988-82 found more and more people losing their jobs (see line graph #1, page v). The recovery years of 1983-84 again showed a high growth rate as Minnesota and the nation climbed out of the recession. After a sharp dip in 1985, Minnesota experienced a moderate but steady growth from 1986-89, before last year's drop of about 1%, to the same level as in 1979 before the recession. Line graph #2 (page v) shows how these rates of growth or decline affected total covered employment in Minnesota from 1975-1990.

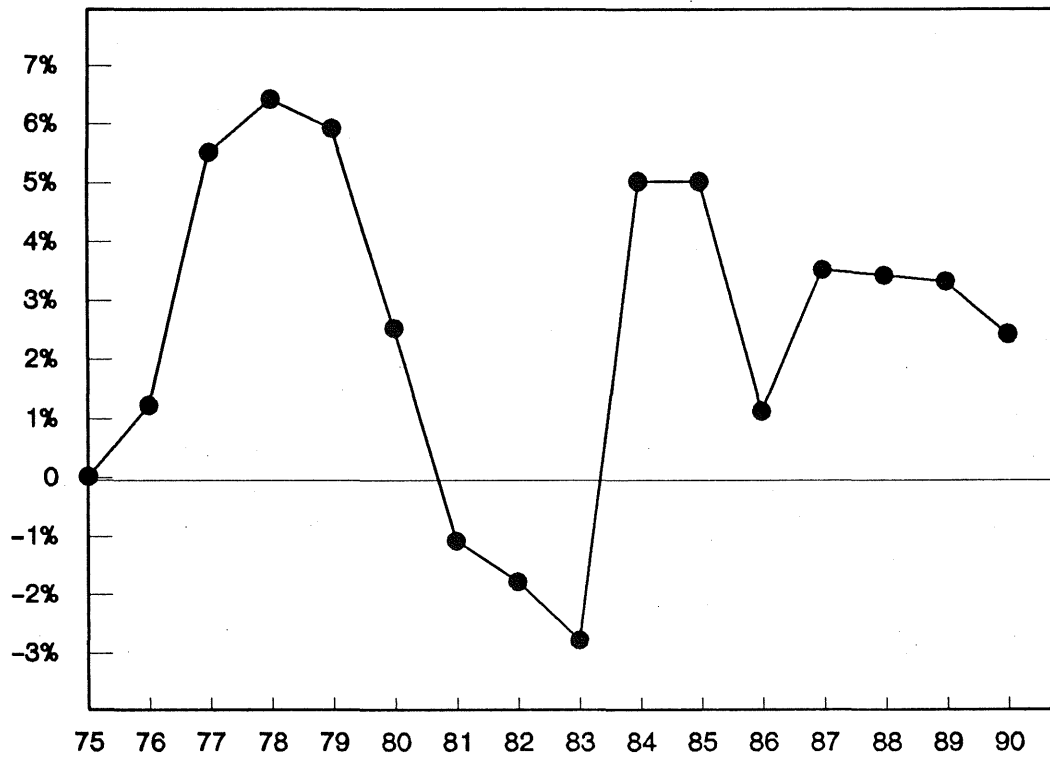

Services again led the private sector with 4.5 percent growth, some 21,500 new jobs since first quarter 1989. Two-thirds of these are found in Health Services (6,697), Social Services (3,963), Membership Organizations (2,500), and Amusement and Recreation Services (1,800). The increased employment in Membership Organizations likely reflects the spread of "charitable gambling" in various Civic, Social, and Fraternal Associations.

Average employment in Manufacturing was 393,478 - only about 1,530 more than in first quarter 1989. The only significant growth in Manufacturing occurred in Printing and Publishing, with 2,255 new jobs, Electronic Equipment (except Computers), up 1,384, and Instruments, up 1,526. Most of this growth was negated by the continuing decline in computer related manufacturing, which lost over 4,900 jobs in the past year.

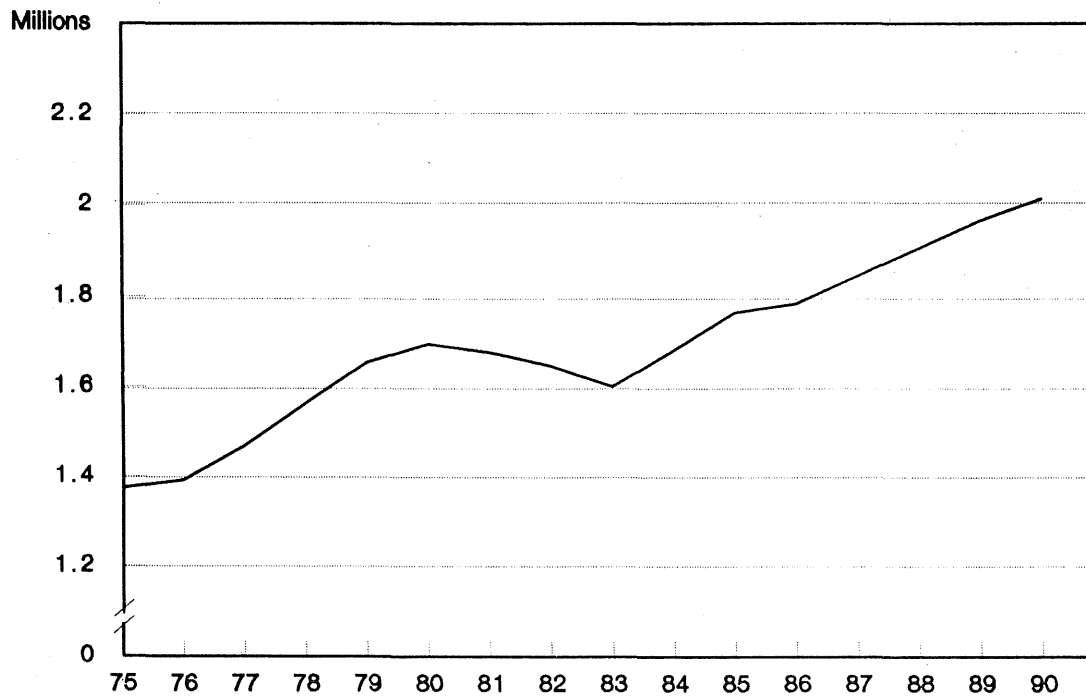

The Twin City Metropolitan area reported a net gain of 23,956 jobs, just a 1.9 percent growth rate. Manufacturing actually had a net loss of over 1,000 positions and construction was also down slightly from the first quarter of 1989. Almost every major Service Industry showed some growth totaling 13,800 new positions, led by Health Services (4,275), Social Services (2,440), Membership Organizations (1,493), and Business Services (1,452). Other areas showing some growth were Finance, Insurance and Real Estate (3,893), Transportation and Public Utilities (3,250), and Local Government (2,923). Total Wages rose to $7.9 billion, up 6.5 percent over 1989, and provided an average weekly wage in the Twin Cities area of $485.

Covered employment grew to 748,679 in Greater Minnesota, showing a net gain of 22,169 jobs since first quarter 1989, a 3.0 percent growth rate. Of this total more than one third, 7,665, were in the Service Division. As in the Metropolitan area, this growth was led by Health Services with 2,420, Social Services with 1,525, and Membership Organizations with just over 1,000. Other contributors to employment growth were Trade with 3,700, Manufacturing with 2,580, Construction with 2,400, and Local Government with 2,345. All of the Regions of Greater Minnesota experienced some growth, with the greatest numbers appearing in the Northeast's Region 3 (5,172), and in the Southeast's Region 10 (4,589). Other regions netting more than 2,000 new jobs were 7W in the central part of the State (2,916), Region 9 in the south central (2,355) and Region 4 in the west central area (2,259). Total wages in covered employment in Greater Minnesota were $3,434 billion, providing an average weekly wage of $353.
