INTRODUCTION

The Minnesota Employment and Wages by Economic Region and County is published quarterly by the Research and Statistics Office of the Minnesota Department of Jobs and Training. The data contained in this publication includes two digits of industry detail wherever possible. To avoid violating data privacy laws and to maintain the mandated confidentiality of individual firm data it was necessary to combine industries wherever there are too few firms in an industry cell. For this reason, some counties show less industry detail than others.

The source of the information is data developed and analyzed by the Research and Statistics Office of the Minnesota Department of Jobs and Training. The data is selected from quarterly tax reports submitted by employers covered under the Minnesota unemployment compensation tax law. All individual employer data is confidential. The data selected is reviewed for accuracy and organized in accordance with the U.S. 1987 Standard Industrial Classification Manual. Approximately 97 percent of the total nonagricultural wage and salary employment in Minnesota is included. There are eight categories of workers excluded from coverage under Minnesota State law:

- 1) the self-employed;
- 2) farms with less than four employees in 20 weeks;
- 3) all railroad transportation employment;
- 4) insurance and real estate salespeople who work only on commission basis;
- 5) students working for the school while a full-time student;
- 6) those employed by a church or synagogue for religious work;
- 7) minor children, spouse and parents working for owner of a business;
- 8) elected officials at the Federal, State and Local levels of government.

TERMS

This section defines a number of key terms necessary to use this data.

The term units refers to the number of plant locations or work sites within the industry and county. For example, there are seven units of the U.S. Post Office in Morrison County.

Monthly employment is reported by job site, not residence of the employees and represents a count of workers on employer payrolls for the week including the 12th of the month.

Average employment is calculated by summing the three monthly figures and dividing by 3. Sub-totals do not necessarily add to totals because of rounding.

Total wages represent wages paid during the entire quarter.

The average weekly wage is calculated by dividing total wages paid by average employment and then dividing again by 13. Average weekly wage figures should be used with caution. Some industries have more temporary or part-time workers than others and this has the effect of lowering the average weekly wage. Also, average weekly wages in some industries may be high because of bonuses paid at the end of a year, or because lower-paid seasonal workers were laid off.

Unallocated employment is listed on page 31. It represents employment of traveling salespeople who have no attachment to a specific work site or those few employers who are not able to report multiple business locations separately.

SECOND QUARTER 1992 COVERED EMPLOYMENT

Minnesota second quarter 1992 covered employment increased by 74,352 jobs from the first quarter of the year, to a level which is 48,475 higher than the second quarter of last year. This increase is attributed to seasonal recalls to work, recalls to work related to the winding down of the 1991 recession, and growth in the SERVICES and TRADE industries.

All major industry divisions reported employment increases in the second quarter of 1992, but some industries continue to operate at employment levels below the same period two years ago. CONSTRUCTION added 17,104 jobs in the second quarter, a gain of approximately 1,000 jobs over last year, but 2,744 fewer people are working than two years ago in April-June. MINING employment rose by 790 in the second quarter of 1992, but is still below comparable periods in 1991 and 1990. MANUFACTURING firms added 7,135 jobs in the second quarter of 1992. These were mostly seasonal returns-to-work and did not approach the higher employment levels experienced in the second quarter of the previous two years. Rubber and Plastics was the only MANUFACTURING industry to report a significant employment gain (1,303) from a year ago. Practically all of this gain came from the manufacture of miscellaneous plastics products, an expanding industry made up of many small firms. Chemicals and Electrical Machinery had the next largest gains, about 500 each.

The SERVICES industry division experienced increased seasonal activity combined with substantial employment growth. Over 18,000 workers were added in the second quarter of 1992, exceeding last year's second quarter employment by 31,752 jobs. Job growth is expected to continue in SERVICES, led by a growing demand for Business Services and Health Care Services.

TRADE is another major industry that expanded over the year. The TRADE employment increase of 7,979 is largely a recovery increase to former employment levels from the 1991 recession.

GOVERNMENT was third in job creation with 5,185 jobs over the year. Practically all of the added jobs in GOVERNMENT occurred at the local government level, especially in education, which was a carry-over of the increase in September 1991.

If future employment growth in Minnesota is to be assured, MANUFACTURING has to expand. Employment trends currently taking place indicate that the SERVICES industry division is the major driving force creating jobs in the State of Minnesota. Whether the current 6 percent annual growth in SERVICES can be sustained over a long period of time is uncertain. Employment growth is needed in the other industries as well, especially in MANUFACTURING. MANUFACTURING, the third largest employing industrial division in Minnesota, behind SERVICES and TRADE, is the only private industry division capable of offsetting reduced job growth in SERVICES. If SERVICES employment growth subsided from 6 percent to 3 percent, it would mean 16,000 fewer jobs created in a year. MANUFACTURING is large enough and diverse enough so that its growth could offset most of the 16,000 fewer SERVICES jobs cited above. (A three percent employment gain in MANUFACTURING would add about 12,000 jobs.) Other industry divisions such as Finance, Insurance and Real Estate, Transportation, Communication and Public

Utilities, and CONSTRUCTION would need to expand employment by 10, 11.5, and 15 percent, respectively, to generate 12,000 new jobs. It is unlikely that these industries could attain such growth, let alone sustain it. AGRICULTURE and MINING are much too small to even be considered for such growth. Expansion of this magnitude is not expected in GOVERNMENT. Although SERVICES and TRADE have been expanding, MANUFACTURING has been hovering around the 400,000-employee-mark for over two years. In fact, MANUFACTURING employment has dropped from 397,463 workers in the second quarter of 1990 to 396,289 in the second quarter of 1991 and, further, to 394,560 in the second quarter of 1992.
