HIGHLIGHTS

Preview issue

This week’s Session Weekly previews what’s ahead for the Minnesota House in 1988. Committee chairs told us what they expect will be the issues their committees will work on once the session starts and bills begin to move through the committee process. You’ll find that information in “Issues for ’88,” page 4.

The legislative leaders seemed to agree on the issues coming up. Both named taxes, the lottery, workers’ compensation, and transportation funding as agenda items for ’88. And when the work begins, Session Weekly will again follow bills from introduction to the governor’s signature.

For those of you who are new readers, Session Weekly is part of the Minnesota House of Representatives public information service. Each week during the session, it includes: 1) highlights of House committee and floor action, 2) a list of committee and floor action on bills, 3) bill introductions, and 4) an advance committee schedule.

Highlights of committee and floor action give you a sampling of what happened from Thursday (2 p.m.) to Thursday (2 p.m.) each week.

As legislative activity increases, the listing of committee and floor action on bills will give concise information so that you can follow particular bills.

Committees can only recommend action on bills, so coverage of committee action will tell you if a committee recommended a bill to pass, to pass as amended, not pass, or rereferred it to another committee for further consideration.

Coverage of floor action will tell you what happens to a bill after it leaves a committee and appears on a calendar for action by the full House.

It’s a fact!

A look back in time, a century or so, gives us a picture of the 25th session of the Minnesota House of Representatives, when 103 members gathered in St. Paul Jan. 4, 1887, to conduct the state’s business.

They represented 80 counties, and 51 percent of the all-male group were farmers—about 38 percent of them foreign-born, coming mostly from Scandinavia or Germany.

Gov. A. R. McGill signed 175 bills into law that year. Those laws incorporated villages and towns; issued bonds to build and maintain public roads and bridges; funded public schools and sewer systems; set salaries for public officials; and elected Cushman K. Davis to the U.S. Congress as senator from Minnesota.

For a look at the present and how the picture has changed in 100 years, see “Do You Know?” (back page).
Bill introductions give you House File numbers, authors, committee assignments, and brief descriptions of bill contents.

The advance committee schedule gives you the information you need to attend committee meetings, all of which are open to the public.

For further help in following the Legislature, or for answers to general questions, please call the House Public Information Office, (612) 296-2146.

We’ve included in this issue a story about an annual pre-session event, the Youth in Government program, and a membership profile of the 1988 Minnesota House of Representatives.

Health and human services

Trying to keep ahead of a tight ’88 session schedule, the Health and Human Services Committee, heard five hours of public testimony on Feb. 2. First on the agenda were ophthalmologists, optometrists, and opticians. Concerned about licensing, they gave the committee an overview of their professions to explain the differences in the scope of their practices, education, and training.

In the latter half of the meeting, families and care providers for mentally retarded adults spoke out about care for the mentally retarded. Their testimony was sometimes emotional as they told about long waiting lists and the number of providers closing their facilities because of rising costs.

“We are beginning to think about out-of-home living for Susanne. As we begin to look around, we find a shortage of space, large waiting lists, and a moratorium prohibiting the building or opening of new locations,” said Richard Mussell, father of a 19-year-old retarded daughter.

He told the legislators, “It seems we, the parents, who have kept our children at home, seem to be forgotten. The priority for adult care seems to go to those coming out of state institutions.”

Committee chair, Rep. Paul Anders Ogren (DFL-Aitkin), has appointed a task force to study the future of regional treatment centers.

Youth in government

With a pound of the gavel, an invocation, and swearing-in of members, it looked like business as usual on the House Floor as a student Speaker of the House opened the Youth in Government session at the State Capitol, Jan. 28.

During the four-day YMCA model government event, student legislators introduced legislation on teacher competency, hazardous wastes, drunken driving, minority rights, AIDS, handgun control, and motorcycle helmet requirements. They worked on their proposed laws as part of the 34th annual session of Youth in Government’s model executive, judicial, and legislative program.

The legislators came from the Metro area and other state communities including: Albert Lea, Alexandria, Benson, Brainerd, Buffalo, Cloquet, Duluth, Faribault, Garden City, Grand Rapids, Madelia, Lakeville, Mankato, Owatonna, Northfield, Red Wing, Rochester, St. Cloud, Virginia, and Winona.

But, of course, not all were legislators. They were judges, lobbyists, media reporters, elected officials, cabinet members, or pages. Each had a specific role, and their professional approach to their respective roles reflected the weeks they had spent in preparation.

And, if the model session is any indicator, the future looks bright for women in government. Of the 813 students who took part, 477 were female. Of those, 112 served as House members.

Encouragement for the program came in the way of financial aid from businesses, organizations, individuals, and about 50 real-life legislators.

High school students from around the state met at the Capitol in St. Paul for the YMCA’s 34th annual Youth in Government program. Here, Youth Governor Sreenu Tadavarthy, a 17-year-old Eden Prairie high school senior, addresses a joint session of the House and Senate.
Two newly elected members bring some changes to the 1988 Minnesota House of Representatives. The Democratic-Farmer-Labor Party remains in the majority with 82 members; Independent-Republicans number 52. The 1987 House split was 83-51.

Farming continues to be most common of legislators' occupations with 27 members listing it as their primary occupation. Education, the next most frequently listed occupation, dropped from 23 to 22. Those who listed business increased from 17 to 18. Other occupations showing no changes include 13 members in law, 4 homemakers, 2 auctioneers and 1 log-home builder.

Of the 112 men and 22 women in the 1988 House, 56 hold college degrees, 31 hold graduate degrees, 17 have done graduate work, and 18 have done college/vo-tech work.

House members' average age is 45: the youngest is 23; the oldest 77.

The two new members increase the number of first-term representatives to 31. The House’s senior member is serving his 16th term.
Each member of the Minnesota House of Representatives serves on several of the twenty-one House committees and nine divisions.

The committee system, where the most detailed work of the Legislature takes place, is the heart of the legislative process. Each committee's job is to hold public hearings on bills, put bills into their best forms, and send to the full body with their recommendations those bills the committee feels merit further consideration.

A committee may recommend passage of a bill in its original form, recommend passage after amendment by the committee, or make no recommendation, in which case, a bill may die when the session ends. After acting on a bill, the committee sends a report stating its actions and recommendations to the House (or Senate).

In an effort to get an idea of what legislators will consider during the second year of the 75th Legislative Session, House Information staff writers asked House committee chairs and administrators about what's ahead. They inquired about issues that committees might take up, the reasons for consideration, and possible committee action. Some committees, at this point, have definite agendas; others are still open. The issues are not necessarily in the order of importance. With this in mind, here are the survey results.

In 1987, the 75th Legislative Session met from Jan. 6 to May 18, and will meet again beginning Feb. 9. Since 1973, the Legislature has met for a biennium (two-year) session beginning in January of each odd-numbered year. By May of the first year, they adjourn temporarily, setting a certain date to return next year. At the end of the second year, they adjourn sine die (without a certain date) until January of the next year.

In 1887, the 25th Legislative Session met from Jan. 4 to March 4, then adjourned sine die. In the 1800s, the Legislature met only every other year.

Currently, the House of Representatives has 134 members; the Senate 67. Just over 100 years ago, the House had 103 members; the Senate 47.

So far, in this biennium, legislators have introduced 1,688 House bills and 1,553 Senate bills. More will come in 1988. In 1887, they introduced 994 House bills and 681 Senate bills.

Last year alone, the governor signed 405 bills. In 1887, the governor signed 175 bills into law.
