Finance Commissioner Peter Hutchinson briefed members of the Appropriations Committee March 2 on the governor's 1990 budget recommendations.

Fundraising ban

The Minnesota House banned its members from soliciting or accepting contributions during a regular legislative session and from accepting honorariums from certain groups.

On March 5, the House voted 134-0 to ban in-session fundraisers effective March 10.

"The close temporal relationship between the fundraising activity and the legislative action can lead to at least the appearance of possible undue influences," says House Majority Leader Dee Long (DFL-Mpls).

House Minority Leader Bill Schreiber (IR-Brooklyn Park) agrees that the practice must stop.

"I am pleased to see that we are now going to have, as a part of our rules, a ban on fundraisers by members of the Legislature while the Legislature is in session," he says.

The bill also prohibits House members from accepting honorariums from any individual or group which has a direct interest in legislation before the House. But the measure wouldn't ban reimbursement, for example, of expenses incurred when a lawmaker gives a speech to a group.

The new rule does not prevent House members from soliciting funds from their constituents in their home districts. It also would allow in-session fundraisers as long as they are sponsored by a political caucus or a group of representatives (more than one). Since House rules only apply to its members, the rule does not prevent a candidate for the House from soliciting funds during a legislative session. The change in the House rules... also doesn’t affect the state Senate.

Violations of this rule will be referred to the House Ethics Committee, which could require that the money be returned or impose other disciplinary action.

Tobacco vending machines

A vending machine that doesn’t release a pack of cigarettes when money is deposited would be operating properly if a bill approved March 6 by the Commerce Committee becomes law.

The measure, sponsored by Rep. Bob McEachern (DFL-Maple Lake), would require that most cigarette machines have a device that rings to alert an attendant when a person drops the first coin into the machine. The clerk would then push a button to activate the machine, which would release the cigarettes.

But the measure would pre-empt the ordinances on vending machines that have already been adopted in 23 Minnesota communities — a provision that proved controversial during the committee hearing.

Uniformity over local rule-making authority was the deciding factor in the debate over restricting the location and accessibility of cigarette vending machines statewide.

The bill would restrict cigarette machines to places closed to the general public or normally inaccessible to teenagers under the age of 18. These machines would not need the locking device. “We want to prevent children from buying cigarettes,” says McEachern. “We want to limit easy access.”

Cigarette machines also could be located in bars and liquor stores if the machines are in plain view of an employee.

Nine Minnesota communities have enacted outright bans on vending machines, and 14 others have adopted some form of restrictions. Opponents say the bill would revoke actions communities already have taken to restrict cigarette vending machine sales.

“We’re asking you not to take away the authority of the local community,” said Jerry Briggs, mayor of White Bear Lake, which has a total ban.

Supporters of the measure countered that it provides uniformity across the state, and that local officials could still control cigarette vending machines in their municipalities through licensing procedures.

HF2042 was sent to the House floor for further consideration.
Several lawmakers gave blood March 6 in recognition of the state's Bone Marrow Donor Week. Their blood was used to see if it matched samples from people in need of bone marrow transplants.

Bone marrow

Several lawmakers and other officials rolled up their sleeves March 6 and took the first step toward becoming bone marrow donors in an effort to help people dying of leukemia and other blood-related diseases.

They gave blood so it could be matched with people from across the country who are in need of bone marrow transplants.

And two days later members of the Health and Human Services Committee unanimously approved a bill that would allow employees time off to undergo a medical procedure to donate bone marrow.

In addition, the measure sponsored by Rep. Charlie Weaver (IR-Champlin) requires the commissioner of health to educate the public about the issue and to recruit potential donors.

In an attempt to recruit state employees as potential bone marrow donors, the measure also allocates funding for lab fees — which usually cost about $75 — for each of the first 200 state employees tested.

Weaver told the committee that approximately 9,000 people die in the United States every year from blood-related diseases. He says some of them could be cured with bone marrow transplants.

Gov. Rudy Perpich designated March 4-10 as Bone Marrow Donor Week in Minnesota.

HF1889 was sent to the Appropriations Committee for further review.

Radioactive waste ban

Low-level radioactive waste would be banned from Minnesota landfills and incinerators if a bill passed March 6 by the Environment and Natural Resources Committee becomes law.

Rep. Lee Greenfield (DFL-Mpls) says the bill is needed because the Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) may allow some low-level radioactive waste to be disposed of in landfills and incinerators.

Currently, radioactive waste generated in Minnesota is shipped to Michigan for disposal in a special facility there.

Members of the Minnesota Public Interest Research Group (MPIRG) support Greenfield’s bill and say there are no safe levels of exposure to radioactivity. They want all radioactive waste to be disposed of in proper facilities and say the long-term cost to the state could be enormous if the wastes contaminate the environment.

But John Windschill, superintendent of radioactive waste protection for the Northern States Power Co. (NSP), opposed the bill, saying people are exposed to more background radiation than what is contained in the low-level radioactive waste.

Windschill says the NRC's proposal to deregulate certain radioactive wastes would greatly reduce disposal costs of the material for NSP. He says the cost of disposing the wastes would drop from about $5,000 per ton to $25 per ton.

The committee sent HF2311 to the House floor.

DWI jail time

Repeat DWI offenders would face a mandatory 10-day sentence behind real bars under a bill approved March 2 by the Judiciary Committee.

Rep. Dave Bishop (IR-Rochester), who authored the amendment to the omnibus drug bill, says DWI offenders need the “shock value” of jail time instead of being confined to their homes under house arrest.

Under the amendment, people convicted of a second DWI offense within five years or a third offense within 10 years would be required to spend at least 10 days in jail in addition to time in home detention or performing community work service.

Bishop says judges in some communities are increasingly sentencing DWI offenders to the alternative programs as a way to ease jail overcrowding.

Mandating jail sentences, however, could result in increased costs. Mark Cunniff, director of corrections for Hennepin County, says the proposal could burden smaller counties that lack the jail space and the finances to build larger jails to accommodate the increased DWI penalties.

HF1843 was sent to the Appropriations Committee for further consideration.
Garbage incinerators

A bill that would impose a temporary moratorium on the construction of all but two garbage incinerators in the state was approved March 5 by the Environment and Natural Resources Committee.

The bill, sponsored by Rep. Tom Rukavina (DFL-Virginia), exempts incinerators planned in Dakota and Winona counties from the moratorium that would continue until the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency (MPCA) conducts an environmental impact study of incinerators. The measure calls on the MPCA to issue a report on its findings by June of 1993.

Rep. Leo Reding (DFL-Austin), who offered the amendment to exempt the two counties, says the counties have spent several years and millions of dollars in planning the incinerators.

Rukavina's measure had called for a complete moratorium. He says more information is needed about the environmental effects of garbage burning, and that the Legislature needs to send a clear message that recycling and composting is the best solution to the garbage problem.

The measure, HF2444, also requires that counties recycle 35 percent of their solid waste and that at least 35 percent of the heavy metals such as lead and cadmium be sorted out of the waste stream before future incinerator permits could be renewed.

The bill now goes to the Appropriations Committee for further consideration.

Light rail transit

A bill that would get the building of a light rail transit (LRT) system underway was approved by the Transportation Committee March 7.

The measure would call for $10 million in state bonding money this year; a $90 million appropriation for next biennium was stripped from the bill. Mike Ehrlman of the Regional Transit Board says the $10 million would at least allow some planning and engineering to go forward.

"It's time we ask ourselves . . . is the state behind LRT or not?" says Rep. Phil Carruthers (DFL-Brooklyn Center), the bill sponsor. "We really need a statement that says the state is willing to be a partner in this."

The preliminary plan would locate the LRT line in the so-called Midway corridor, which would link the downtowns of Minneapolis and St. Paul. LRT planners say the site would have the highest probability of success.

Hennepin County Commissioner John Derus calls the LRT plan the "beginning of an answer" to the state's transportation problems.

Some lawmakers who opposed the legislation say the state has higher priorities for funding than a new mass transit system. And they question where the remaining money for the $300 million preliminary system would come from.

Members sent HF1788 to the Appropriations Committee for further consideration.

Budget deficit

"We're spending more than we're taking in . . . to the tune of $540 million dollars," says Peter Hutchinson, commissioner of the Department of Finance. He and other state officials presented the governor's budget recommendation to the Taxes Committee on March 6.

Hutchinson has forecasted the state will face a $145 million dollar deficit at the end of fiscal year 1991. If current spending trends continue, the state can expect a $537 million dollar shortfall by the end of the 1992-1993 biennium.

He says the state must correct the imbalance between its spending and revenues to provide a balanced budget.

Department of Revenue Commissioner John James said the governor proposed a 3 percent reduction in the aid given to local governments. These local government aid reductions would include eliminating some automatic increases in certain aids and restricting the uses of other forms of aid.

James says the governor is also recommending reducing some business loans and credits. He says these include reducing the Office of Tourism's revolving loan program, sunsetting the Job Skills Partnership Program, and eliminating the commercial/industrial equalization property tax refund.

James also says the governor is recommending reducing state agencies' budgets by 5 percent.

The committee will continue hearing the governor's recommendations March 12.
Triple-vehicle trailers

A measure that would allow triple-vehicle trailers on most Minnesota highways successfully steered its way through the Transportation Committee March 7.

It would allow a vehicle to pull both a camper and a boat. Combinations measuring as long as 70 feet would be allowed on most Minnesota roads, but would be banned from the metro area.

Bill sponsor Katy Olson (DFL-Sherburn) says restricting triple recreational vehicles is "keeping a lot of tourism out of Minnesota." She adds that states that permit triple-vehicle trailers have had no problems.

But the bill could face some difficult navigating in the weeks ahead. Maj. Ralph Church of the State Patrol told lawmakers his department is "really fearful of them." He says that in other states the triple rigs are allowed only on four-lane highways. Under Olson's proposal there would be no such restriction.

A driver of the vehicle wouldn't need a commercial license.

"We could have a 16-year-old driving a 70-foot vehicle with no training," says Rep. Alice Johnson (DFL-Spring Lake Park).

Lawmakers sent HF1712 to the Appropriations Committee for further consideration.

Environmental education

In an effort to increase awareness of environmental issues, the Education Committee approved a bill March 5 that would create an environmental education program.

The program is designed to teach people about the ecological system and the cause-and-effect relationship between humans and the environment, says Rep. Ken Nelson (DFL-Mpls), the bill's chief author.

The measure, officially called the Environmental Education Act, would create the Office of Environmental Education. The office would be part of the State Planning Agency and would coordinate informal environmental education with schools, colleges, and the general public.

Nelson explained that housing the office within the planning agency would allow the office the flexibility to work with different communities, educators, and environmental organizations.

The bill also includes provisions for environmental resource centers throughout the state. These centers would be focal points for environmental education aids, curricula, and general information for schools or groups.

Lawmakers sent HF2383 to the Environment and Natural Resources Committee for further review.

Family sick time

A bill that would allow employees to take time off from their jobs to care for family members who are ill was approved by the Labor-Management Relations Committee March 5.

The bill, authored by Rep. Peter McLaughlin (DFL-Mpls), would grant workers up to 10 days leave per year to care for seriously ill family members or for a personal illness. It also would allow employees to use three of the 10 days to attend school conferences for their children.

McLaughlin says the bill reflects the changing makeup of today's workforce. He says oftentimes a parent isn't available to care for a sick child or other family member because more parents are working.

To qualify for the leave, an employee would have to have worked on the job for at least a year, and the business or agency would have to employ at least 21 workers.

March 9, 1990/SESSION WEEKLY 5

Employers wouldn’t have to pay workers for the time off, but an employee could use accrued paid leave time during the absence. Employers would be required to continue the employee’s group health insurance coverage as long as the employee continued to make normal insurance premium contributions.

The committee sent HF367 to the House floor for further consideration.

Telephone service

A bill that could require more telephone calls made within the seven-county metro area to be considered “local” was approved by the Regulated Industries Committee March 7.

With much debate, the committee adopted a measure sponsored by Rep. Joel Jacobs (DFL-Coon Rapids) that would require expansion of the metropolitan Extended Area Service (EAS).

The effect could be that telephone calls made within the seven-county metro area would not be considered “long-distance” as long as a variety of conditions are met.

The measure would give the Public Utilities Commission (PUC) authority to grant petitions for inclusion in an EAS only when certain criteria are met. One requirement would be that at least half the customers in the area requesting the extended service make one or more calls per month to the area they want included in the toll-free calling zone.

An amendment to the bill would require that existing EAS customers pay 25 percent of the costs, with the remainder being picked up by those petitioning for the extended service.

The committee sent HF2327 to the House floor for further consideration.

Child support enforcement

Those ordered to make child support payments would be required to provide child support agencies with their bank account numbers under a bill approved March 5 by the Judiciary Committee.

The bill, proposed by Rep. Richard Jefferson (DFL-Mpls), would allow courts to order the financial institution to pay monthly support if a person failed to make the payments and income withholding was ineffective.

It would also give child support agencies access to driver’s license records, and require those ordered to pay child support to provide their social security numbers and date of birth to child support agencies.

Currently, a person’s income can be withheld if they are more than one month behind in support payments and written notice of the income withholding has been served to the person. But oftentimes it’s difficult to obtain the delinquent payments — particularly from those who are self-employed, says Jefferson.

“This will increase the effectiveness of child support agencies,” he says. “It will give them the ability to do their job.”

HF2404 was sent to the Health and Human Services Committee for further consideration.

School condemnation

School districts could raise funds for building projects without voter approval under a bill heard March 6 by the Education Finance Division of the Education Committee.

Under an amendment to a bill authored by Rep. Bob McEachern (DFL-Maple Lake), districts would be permitted to levy more taxes without voter approval for repair of facilities or the construction of new ones if the Department of Education orders the work done.

Currently, school districts must ask voters for approval if additional money is sought to repair or replace buildings.

The amendment would also give the Department of Education the power to condemn school buildings, based on the recommendation of the state fire marshal.

The department would then determine what portion of the cost of repairs or building project could come out of the district’s existing capital funds. The remaining costs would be levied against the taxpayers in the districts.

McEachern says the measure will ensure districts are complying with fire and safety standards.

But Rep. Jerry Bauerly (DFL-Sauk Rapids) expressed concern about the costs the measure would have on school districts.

“Behind this floodgate is a deluge of schools that are going to be asking us for loans,” says Bauerly.

The committee took no action on HF1876.
Powers of arrest

Police officers from other states would no longer be foiled when pursuing a suspect across Minnesota state lines if a bill approved March 7 by the Judiciary Committee becomes law.

HF2056 (Dauner, DFL-Hawley) would give officers from other states the authority to arrest and detain a suspect inside Minnesota state boundaries.

Under current Minnesota state law, officers from other states can’t arrest suspects who cross the state line into Minnesota.

The bill would also make results of blood tests taken in other states admissible in Minnesota courts. Currently, such tests taken on suspected drunk drivers are often ruled inadmissible on the grounds they weren’t performed in Minnesota.

The committee sent the bill to the House floor for further consideration.

Police ticket quotas

A bill that would prohibit law enforcement agencies from setting “ticket quotas” for their officers was approved by the Judiciary Committee March 7.

Requiring officers to issue a certain number of tickets doesn’t serve the public interest and is bad policy, says Rep. Randy Kelly (DFL-St. Paul).

“Threatening officers with poor evaluations or disciplinary action in order to get them to write traffic citations or to arrest people for DWI seems like the worst kind of public policy that could possibly exist for law enforcement agencies,” says Kelly.

But St. Louis Park Police Chief Mancel Mirchren says ticket quotas aren’t a problem.

“We don’t give out tickets. People earn them,” he says.

HF2397 was sent to the House floor for further consideration.

Insurance agents

The Department of Commerce will establish a review board to hear complaints from insurance agents who have been dismissed from their jobs if a bill passed by the Insurance Committee March 7 becomes law.

Bill sponsor Rep. Jerome Peterson (DFL-Princeton) says many award-winning insurance agents have lost their jobs when the insurance company they had been employed with for decades decided to terminate them for no good reasons.

The bill spells out a process that kicks in if an insurance agent requests a review of his or her termination. The department would then organize a hearing within 30 days. Three members of a hearing panel — selected from a pool of 10 insurance agents and 10 representatives from insurance companies — would hear the complaint.

If the review board decides the termination was unjustified, the commissioner of commerce would decide the amount of the compensation to the insurance agents.

Scott Goldsmith of Farmers Insurance opposed the bill, and questioned whether the bill is constitutional. He says the Legislature can’t deprive people of a right to a contract and can’t change existing contracts.

Governor’s drug plan

The governor’s drug intervention program for school-aged children got its first legislative airing March 7 in the Education Committee.

The plan, presented by Jan Smaby, director of the Office of Drug Policy, would weave existing school and community programs to work with children who may be at risk for drug or alcohol abuse.

“We do not intend to fill in the gaps with this bill,” Smaby told the committee. “We do seek to lay a foundation for the future.”

The committee sent HF2004 to its Education Finance Division for further review.

Correction

The penalty for missing the state-imposed bargaining deadline for settling teacher contracts was incorrectly reported in the March 2 Session Weekly. The penalty is $25 in state aid per pupil.

On the eve of the state hockey tournament, a group of legislators told Minnesota State High School League officials that more teams should participate in the annual event. On March 7, the General Legislation, Veterans Affairs and Gaming Committee postponed a vote to repeal the two-tier hockey tourney to give the league time to find a solution.
We've got light beer, light mayonnaise and even light fruit cocktail. So why not light butter? That, apparently, was the collective thinking of the Agriculture Committee March 5 when it approved HF2305, a measure that would permit light butter to be sold in Minnesota. The bill, sponsored by Rep. Rick Krueger (DFL-Staples), would allow butter containing only 52 percent butterfat, which has one-third less cholesterol, fat, and calories than regular butter, to be sold in the state. In Minnesota, it's currently illegal to sell butter that contains less than 80 percent butterfat. Krueger says butter sales have declined in recent years because consumers are more diet conscious.

Minnesota can do its part to help curb the growing problem of global warming, says Rep. Phyllis Kahn. The DFLer from Minneapolis has proposed a state tree-planting program to be paid for with a surcharge on automobiles and carbon dioxide-producing facilities. Kahn says trees play a big role in keeping the earth's carbon cycle balanced. The Environment and Natural Resources Committee approved HF1617 and sent it to the Appropriations Committee for further review.

A proposed constitutional amendment calling for the creation of a compensation court of appeals to deal with employee/employer issues may be on the ballot next November. A measure sponsored by Rep. Jean Wagenius (DFL-Mpls) seeks to abolish the current Worker's Compensation Court of Appeals and replace it with the compensation court. The measure, which has the support of both labor and business, would make those sitting on the compensation court bench judges. Currently, they are considered administration officials. The Judiciary Committee approved HF2196 and sent it to the Labor-Management Relations Committee for further review.

Minneapolis reported 15 violent crimes per 100,000 people in 1988, second only to Portland, Ore., in a nationwide comparison of 39 mid-sized cities. But St. Paul averaged only nine reported violent crimes per 100,000 people, well below the average of 12.5 reported violent crimes among the 39 cities compared. Hennepin County's Criminal Justice Department presented the comparison March 2 to the Judiciary Committee. St. Paul's rank among the cities wasn't mentioned during the committee meeting.

Concern over the safety of school buildings has prompted a division of the Education Committee to consider mandatory inspection by the state fire marshal of public school buildings. Rep. Becky Kelso (DFL-Shakopee), author of HF1805, says the state shouldn't wait until children become casualties of unsafe school buildings. A survey of 614 school buildings built before 1940 showed that almost 40 percent of them had never been inspected by the state fire marshal. The Department of Education conducted the survey.

Minnesotans will go to the polls on the first Tuesday in April 1992 to make their choices in the state's new presidential primary. Voters also may be required to sign a certificate and mark which political party's ballot they intend to use. Both are changes from the law passed in 1989 creating the presidential primary. The General Legislation, Veterans Affairs & Gaming Committee approved HF 2325 (Scheid, DFL-Brooklyn Park) March 8 and sent it to the House floor.

Every see piles of pulltabs in a club? After Jan. 1, 1991, those pulltabs may have to be manufactured from recycled paper. The requirement was added to HF2005 (Quinn, DFL-Coon Rapids), a bill regulating the state's lawful gambling industry. The General Legislation, Veterans Affairs & Gaming Committee approved the measure March 8 and sent it to the Appropriations Committee.
The International Wolf Center (IWC) in Ely could have a new and improved home if a request for $2.2 million in bonding money is approved for the project. Nancy Gibson, president of the IWC, says that last year 35,000 people visited the Voyageur Visitors Center, and that a new building is necessary to accommodate the ever-increasing number of visitors. The wolf center would be built alongside the Voyageur Visitors Center. The visitors center is seeking an additional $600,000 for other improvements. Gibson appeared before the State Departments Division of the Appropriations Committee.

A council on homelessness would be established if a bill approved by the Housing Division of the Financial Institutions and Housing Committee becomes law. The council would be under the jurisdiction of the Minnesota Housing Finance Agency. Supporters of HF2283 (Jefferson, DFL-Mpls) say that without an organization to coordinate services for the homeless and to apply for federal grants for programs for the homeless, Minnesota could stand to lose millions in federal dollars.

MnDOT wants to upgrade and expand the state’s bicycle system, says Ken Buckeye, the state’s bike coordinator. Buckeye told the Agriculture, Transportation and Semi-State Division of the Appropriations Committee March 6 that there is a lot of interest in cycling in Minnesota. Bicycles outsold cars in Minnesota in 1989, 73 percent of Minnesota households own one or more bicycles, and an estimated $20 million was saved in operating costs because people chose biking instead of driving, Buckeye says.

Drivers may think twice before ignoring a railroad crossing signal if a bill approved by the Transportation Committee March 7 becomes law. The proposal would make driving through a railroad crossing’s warning signal a misdemeanor; the crime would be a gross misdemeanor if the driver is under the influence of alcohol or drugs. Members sent HF2401 (Tunheim, DFL-Kennedy) to the Judiciary Committee for further consideration.

Women veterans would have at least two spots on the Veteran Homes Board under a measure approved March 7 by the General Legislation, Veterans Affairs & Gaming Committee. The bill, HF2138 (Blatz, IR-Bloomington), would require the governor to appoint at least two women to the nine-member board. The bill is now on the House floor.

Bullet-proof vests are under attack by Rep. Randy Kelly (DFL-St. Paul). A bill Kelly has proposed makes the wearing of "soft body armor" during the course of a felony a felony itself, punishable by a maximum of five years in prison. The armor could also be confiscated without question by police. The Judiciary Committee approved HF2086 on March 2.

A resolution that would encourage the U.S. Congress to reauthorize the Low Income Energy Assistance Program was approved in the Housing Division of the Financial Institutions & Housing Committee March 5. The program, which helps the poor pay for heating costs, has been extremely beneficial for the state, says bill sponsor Rep. Andy Dawkins (DFL-St. Paul). The resolution calls on Congress to increase funding for the program to $2.3 billion. Last year, Minnesota received $55.2 million through the program.

A proposal to help fund pensions for volunteer ambulance crew members was approved March 7 in the Transportation Committee. The bill would require Minnesotans to pay a $2 fee every time they renew their driver’s license. The bulk of the money — $1.3 million — would be channeled into a pension fund for volunteer ambulance crew members in rural areas. Members sent HF1965 (Cooper, DFL-Bird Island) to the Taxes Committee for further consideration.

“Let the buyer beware” shouldn’t pertain to higher education. That was the idea behind a bill sponsored by Rep. Len Price (DFL-Woodbury) that would direct the State Board of Vocational Technical Education to provide prospective students with information about the jobs they hope to land after finishing their schooling. Specifically, the board would provide information about the job market, working conditions, wages for different jobs and qualifications of technical college instructors. The Education Committee approved the bill March 6.
House Minority Leader Bill Schreiber (IR-Brooklyn Park) leads the minority caucus, but he relies on his six assistant leaders to help him perform his duties.

They stand in for him at caucus meetings, direct the Independent-Republican during floor sessions, and make public appearances on Schreiber's behalf.

Reps. Kathleen Blatz (IR-Bloomington), Terry Dempsey (IR-New Ulm), Dave Gruenes (IR-St. Cloud), Brad Stanius (IR-White Bear Lake), Steve Sviggum (IR-Kenyon), and Don Valento (IR-Little Canada) are all assistant minority leaders.

Although each perform a variety of duties, some assistants develop specific areas of responsibility.

Blatz, an assistant leader for four years, for example, orients freshman caucus members.

"I help freshman members procedurally, getting their bills through committees," she says.

IR leadership meets at least two times a week, and Blatz says the assistants act as a "conduit back and forth between the minority leader and the caucus members."

She also briefs other members about upcoming legislation. Most members serve on only a few committees, and can't follow every bill through the House.

"I inform the caucus members of what is going to be on the agenda so there will not be any surprises," she says.

Dempsey also fills in for Schreiber whenever the need arises. In Schreiber's absence, he conducts IR caucus meetings, and often has been assigned to chairing ad hoc committees on specific issues facing the caucus.

Dempsey says he likes being an assistant leader because it "gives you access to a decision-making level that you might not otherwise be at."

"Caucus policy is formulated at the leadership level, and then brought back to the caucus for approval and refinement."

Having that early voice in planning caucus positions isn't available to all caucus members.

He also helps mediate disputes between groups within the caucus such as flare-ups between rural and suburban lawmakers.

Stanius says his duties are "multi-functional," but that his "biggest duty is to set policy and direction for the Republican caucus in the House."

"I articulate the problems with the way this state is going, and outline answers to those problems," he says.

He helps IR caucus members understand how they can reach solutions to various problems. "Some of the folks have great ideas, but they sometimes need a little help to get their bills heard and made into laws."

The part of the job he likes best is that he feels he is making a difference. "I think what we do, and the decisions we make as assistant minority leaders, are implemented 90 percent of the time," he says.

Sviggum has been an assistant leader for two years. He was also an assistant majority leader when the IRs controlled the House in 1985 and 1986.

Sviggum is the IR floor leader and assists Schreiber during floor sessions, acting as the IR point man when preparing strategy and offering amendments to legislation on the floor.

"I like the involvement with the floor activity, the charge of being floor leader... and to lead the caucus philosophically on various positions," he says.
Legislative library works to answer questions

There is no traditional card catalogue but every piece of information is meticulously filed. The room appears to hold as many study tables as shelves but there is an endless wealth of information available.

This is the Legislative Reference Library (LRL), the department where a broad range of information is found and obscure questions are answered.

Legislators preparing bills use the library to gather statistics and background information, says Jan LeSuer, one of four reference librarians. They also read how other states deal with issues, the local response to proposed bills, and the fate of past proposals.

The clipping files, a collection unique to the LRL, are frequently used as a resource, LeSuer says. The files, started in 1969, contain articles clipped from almost every Minnesota newspaper. They are arranged topically, from crime and disabled housing to public lands and U.S. presidents.

"Legislators are very interested in how issues are covered in the press. The files provide great background information and give a sense of how an issue is growing," he says.

The majority of library users belong to the Legislature or a state government agency.

"Our first duty is to legislators and their staff. If the public or a state agency or even the governor comes in, great. But they may have to work independently," LeSuer says.

The priority given to legislators and their needs is why the library emphasizes research materials, according to Director Marilyn Cathcart.

"We do just about anything to get information for a legislator or legislator's staff—call other states and national associations and connect into various computer data bases. We're like detectives," Cathcart says.

Computers give "let-work" new meaning

Originally located in a small room in the Capitol, the department has grown as the needs of patrons have grown. Because legislators want up-to-date information from all levels of government, the LRL uses extensive on-line database systems. In 1983, the library's records became a part of the State University System's on-line catalog, PALS. The computer search service gives quick and easy access to the library's collection of books, government publications, and reports.

NEXIS, an electronic news service, includes information from major newspapers, magazines and wire services, and SISP (State Information Systems Project) indexes information collected by Minnesota state agencies.

Another valuable service is DIALOG, a vendor of several hundred data bases which LRL uses to fetch a wide range of information.

"DIALOG bursts our ability to get information beyond our walls," Cathcart says. With it and other data bases, LRL staff are able to answer almost any question.

The information connection

When a person needed information on Eurasian water milfoil, for example, Cathcart reached for the computer. The search yielded valuable background articles about the algae that has contaminated Minnesota lakes.

Other questions are more straightforward. Cathcart says some people call and ask for the governor's address or a quotation from former Senator and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey. The LRL staff receives an average of 80 questions every day, she says.

"During session, most of our questions come from legislators. After session, we get questions from the public wanting to know what the Legislature did," Cathcart says.

Instead of waiting for questions to come up, the staff gathers information they know is of interest to legislators.

Cathcart emphasized that the library is non-partisan, and keeps requests for information confidential.

"Most library users are concerned about confidentiality because they have a political agenda, but we don't reveal—and never will—what we're doing for someone or who we're doing it for," she says.

If floor action is the heart of the House, then committee action is its soul. The committee molds the bill by amending it — sometimes adding just a word, sometimes deleting just a sentence, sometimes substituting an entirely new version. And the amending process can happen more than once if a bill moves through several committees before reaching the floor.

But every bill undergoes the committee process because a bill must pass through at least one before it reaches the House floor for debate.

Left: Testimony is paramount during a committee hearing. House members and witnesses explain a bill to other lawmakers.

Center: A gavel, pen, and the all-important bill summary are trademarks found at any House committee hearing.

Committee members' eyes often grow weary after a long and tedious budget hearing.
Say 'thanks' to the House pages

The hours are long. Sometimes very long. There's no overtime pay and the stress at times can be great. So why would anybody want to be a House page?

“People want to be pages because it allows them to get their feet wet in the political arena and gain more knowledge about the legislative process,” says Toya Farrar-Orr, assistant sergeant at arms for the House.

Farrar-Orr and Muggs Olsen, also an assistant sergeant at arms, supervise 35-40 full-time pages every session. Andy Remke, chief sergeant at arms, is responsible for hiring and training the group.

“The experience really builds character . . . the people who make it through and still come out with a very positive attitude probably got the legislative experience they were yearning for,” says Farrar-Orr. “A lot of these people come back again, too.”

Farrar-Orr says there is a lot of “physicalness” in being a page. “Basically they are there to do almost anything that will help a House member or staff member get their work done,” she says.

Serving in the various House committees is one of the primary responsibilities for a page. A typical day of work might include passing out bills and amendments to the committee members, bringing up jugs of water for thirsty House members, or running the recording system.

The number of pages assigned to each committee depends on the size of the committee. The large Judiciary Committee, for example, might need four pages, while a subcommittee may need only one or two.

When the House is in session it’s the page who makes sure the chamber and the retiring room are ready. During session, pages sit on a bench in the front of the chamber waiting for the light signal that means they’re needed by a representative. After session, it’s the pages’ job to clean up the chamber.

Farrar-Orr says that 65-70 percent of pages are recent college graduates, mostly political science majors. However, pages come from a variety of backgrounds and range in age from 18 to 80. Many are using the job as a “stepping stone” to other state government positions. Legislators, staff members, the chief sergeant at arms, and chief clerk of the House, Edward A. Burdick, have all started out as pages.

The pages become a “real close knit group” during sessions, Farrar-Orr says, and many lasting relationships have come out of the experience.

As for the stress factor, she says that toward the end of session when things are tense, “legislators and staff can sometimes snap at you . . . We try to prepare the new pages for that kind of pressure during orientation.” Hours during that hectic time can go into the early morning, which is especially rough for pages who have to be back for an 8 a.m. committee meeting.

“Many times pages go without any verbal thank-you’s,” she says. “The important thing for everyone to remember is how hard they work.”

Legislative Reference Library

research for state agencies or the public as it does for legislators, the staff helps them find the information they need and will refer them to information sources.

Collections benefit public
The LRL encourages the public to use its unique collections, Cathcart says. These include special topical files, minutes of state boards, commissions and agencies, legislative tapes, and the largest, most complete collection of state documents in Minnesota.
In addition to the special collections, a broad range of current and historical information can be found on the library shelves.
Statistical abstracts, association lists, minutes from meetings of state associations, and over 700 periodicals and newspapers from around the country are filed in the LRL.
And new information is regularly added to the personality files, which contain clippings on prominent people from throughout the state.
The LRL, which is under the jurisdiction of the Legislative Coordinating Commission, was created by the Legislature in 1969. It's required to keep copies of consultants' reports, all reports and publications from state agencies, and to distribute a monthly list of state documents.
Library staff members pride themselves on being able to obtain accurate information quickly, helping to fulfill their belief that access to good information is an essential factor in the legislative process, says Cathcart.

Legislative Reference Library collection:
— about 26,000 books, pamphlets, and documents;
— 500 active magazine subscriptions;
— specialized clipping files filed by subject, district, state agency or person's name;
— House and Senate Journals from 1909;
— Minnesota Statutes from 1941;
— Minnesota Session Laws from 1871;
— Depository collection of Minnesota state documents;
— Minnesota Legislative Manuals from 1871;
— Governors' proposed budgets;
— State agency and commission files;
— Minutes of state boards, commissions and agencies;
— Interest group ratings of legislators;
— the monthly LRL Checklist of Minnesota documents; and — the bi-monthly LRL Resources listing of new acquisitions.
